Three More Mysterious Red Ships Are Seen in Caribbean

Luzon Is Severely Shaken by Quake

Heavy Damage Is Reported to Many Buildings in 500-Mile Area; Some Towns Isolated

Manila, Dec. 29 (AP)—A heavy earthquake shook Luzon, main island of the Philippines, for two and one-half minutes today.

Isabela Province, on the north-east coast, was reported hardest hit, with sea waves and landslides.

The Manila Bulletin correspondent said the shock was rated at magnitude seven. That is the third heaviest on the earthquake scale.

An unidentified woman was drowned by the seismic sea waves off the town of Mercedes. A boat with eight passengers capsized near the Molina ferry, but all were reported saved.

In the town of Saguilan, about 200 miles northeast of Manila, a report was received to have been swallowed up by a fissure in the earth. Several nearby towns were isolated by landslides.

The National Red Cross reported several fissures spewed black water in the town of Iligan, Isabela Province, capital. 275 miles northeast of Manila. The Catholic Church there was badly damaged.

In Cabanatuan, 70 miles north of Manila, several women and children were reported injured in a stampede in a movie theatre.

Throughout the 500-mile length of Luzon, almost every able-bodied person fled into the open for safety.

Damage to many buildings was reported. Large cracks appeared in some of Manila's tallest structures.

Telephone poles whipped back and forth at the zenith of the terror.

Standing without support for several minutes, the fourth floor of the Associated Press building in Manila tilted back and forth. Light fixtures rocked back and forth. A steel file cabinet danced around the floor.

There were stories that several women, trapped in downtown buildings, fainted. Traffic in numerous streets became jammed. Many abandoned their vehicles and sought safety away from the swaying tall buildings.

Almost every large city on the island reported damage to buildings.

To Be Sued for Divorce
New York, Dec. 29 (AP)—Columbia Pictures Inc. today filed a divorce suit against actress Susan Blanchard.

The writer said Mrs. Blanchard, 34, is the second wife of the actor, William H. Hopper, who is in the picture "The Bandwagon."

Project Is Planned
New York, Dec. 29 (AP)—A voluntary cooperative housing project in Mount Vernon, which will provide accommodations for 150 families, is under construction.

Six-Holiday Death Toll In U.S. 2,717

Safety Council Predicts New Year's Toll at 330 in Automobile Accidents

'Horror' Is Cited

Council Calls Deaths Shameful, Disgraceful for Nation

(By the Associated Press)
The nation celebrated the six major holidays in 1949 with a lot of whoopie and gaiety but there was a staggering toll of violent accidental deaths—2,717.

And, the national safety council predicts, 1950 will start with 330 Americans being killed in traffic accidents over the New Year's week.

The council did not estimate the number of deaths in other accidents.

Deaths on the highways, in the air, fires, drownings, and a variety of other causes reached new records over some of the holiday periods this year. In most of them, the traffic toll exceeded the figure estimated by the council.

The 1949 holiday violent deaths showed: 1,705 in traffic mishaps; 381 drowned; 68 killed in fires and 555 killed in accidents of miscellaneous causes—including falls, airplane crashes, shootings, asphyxiations, etc.

Here is a breakdown for the holidays:

New Year's (two days)—309, including 207 traffic; Memorial Day (three days), 413, including 255 traffic; 57 drownings; Fourth of July (three days), 413, including 315 traffic; 256 drownings; Labor Day (three days), 525, including 394 traffic; Thanksgiving (one day), 179, including 123 traffic; Christmas (three days), 580, including 413 traffic.

The safety council has termed the violent deaths during the holiday celebrations "shameful," "appalling" and "disgraceful."

After last week-end's Christmas holiday, when 580 persons lost their lives in accidents, Council President Ned H. Dearborn said: "The actual toll for our three-day celebration was more than that for the Texas City disaster of two years ago which horrified the nation."

The council's estimated 330 traffic fatalities for this week-end celebration is for the period from 12 p. m. Friday to midnight Monday. The council warned against drinking and driving and to "double your caution if the weather is bad."

The Christmas week-end toll of 413 traffic fatalities was 22 under the council's estimate. But the auto death rate for the period was approximately 78 per cent higher than the average number of deaths for a similar period this year—78 hours—was 269.

The fourth of July holiday took the heaviest toll this year—a record of 711 lives. The total was close to an all-time record toll for any holiday, the 761 accidental deaths recorded in four days in Christmas week, 1916.

Last Chance for Licenses
Albany, N. Y., Dec. 29 (AP)—Tomorrow is the last chance for operators of buses, taxicabs, private vehicles and ambulances to obtain 1950 license plates before 1949 registrations expire at midnight Saturday.

Officers of the State Motor Vehicle Bureau will be closed Saturday. The 1949 plates for most other types of vehicles, including passenger cars and commercial carriers, may be used until midnight, January 31.

GOP Plans To Hit Most At Outlay

Washington, Dec. 29 (AP)—Republican leaders, seemed agreed today on making the Truman administration's spending policies one of their chief issues of the 1950 campaign.

That was the one suggestion that cropped up most often in an analysis of current and recent statements by G.O.P. bigwigs on the future course of their party.

As of now, it needs much more money and many more offices.

Out of a long drought, at the presidential polling places has come about every possible suggestion for reorganizing and rebuilding the party.

At one wing, Senator John W. Bricker of Ohio has proposed an outright merger with southern Democrats. On the other wing, Senator Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts has called for a Republican party that will hold out its hand to labor.

Guy G. Gabrielson, the Republican national chairman, has joined the latest G.O.P. outcry against "big government."

However, Gov. Alfred E. Driscoll of New Jersey, whose reelection last November was one of the bright spots in a dull Republican sky, says it all depends on what the G.O.P. is "me-tooing."

He, for one, says he is willing to "me-too" the Ten Commandments, the preamble to the Constitution and a strong national defense.

Driscoll has opposed federal aid to education and federal public housing. But he has plugged a state program to accomplish the same ends.

Vandenberg Outed
Senator Arthur Vandenberg (R-Mich.) put his creed for Republicans into the sentence. He said the Republican aim should be "To restore the American system to safe foundations before it is too late and to gear dependable progress with national solvency and individual freedom."

Generally speaking, the Republicans seem to think that Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York (Continued on Page 19, Col. 4)

Wicks' Present Post Real Springboard to Gubernatorial Race

Kingston Senator Described as One of Smartest Politicians in G.O.P.; If He Doesn't Get Nomination, He'll Decide Who Does

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 29 (AP)—One of the shrewdest and toughest politicians in the Republican ranks will lead the majority in the State Senate during the politically strategic 1950 session of the Legislature.

Arthur H. Wicks of Kingston is the now chief of the smaller house. And privately he makes no bones about his interest in the nomination for governor next fall—if Governor Dewey quits politics.

Wicks, who came to Albany in 1927 "to serve only one term," long has been a behind-the-scenes G.O.P. power in the Senate. In recent years he has been topdog as chairman of the Senate Finance Committee.

As majority leader, he is expected to emerge as a better-known and far more serious contender for Dewey's gubernatorial mantle.

Speculation on the nomination—if Dewey doesn't run again—has centered, so far, on U. S. Senator Irving M. Ives, Lt. Gov. Joe R. Hanley, Assembly Speaker Oswald D. Heck, Comptroller Frank C. Moore and State Senator Walter J. Mahoney.

If Wicks doesn't get the nomination, his friends claim, he will have much to say as to who is tapped. He is the ranking Republican leader of the seven-county Third Judicial District of eastern New York. He is a hard-bargaining political horse-trader.

Tenacious Battler
Wicks is a tenacious battler in the legislative halls—and courtroom—for his district.

He outflanked two vetoes by Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt in having the state build the Rip Van Winkle bridge across the Hudson at Catskill.

As a result of a long campaign by Wicks, the State Public Works Department is studying possible sites in the Kingston area for another Hudson span.

Wicks runs an efficient Republican organization in Ulster County. As a practical politician, he goes to bat frequently and fruitfully for his organization and its workers.

Wicks is not interested in the nomination for lieutenant governor, but has said "if they tell you you're it, well, I guess you would be."

That's how he came to the Senate 23 years ago.

Tapped by Phil Eting, the late Phil Eting, then Ulster county G.O.P. chairman, summoned Wicks, an eager ward leader, to a midnight conference in the fall of 1926.

He told Wicks, then 39 and a (Continued on Page 5, Col. 3)

Proposals Hit Mostly Minor Items

Memorial Day Parade Criticized: Mayor Points Out Cost Is Insignificant

Cuts Must Not Affect Essential Functions, Mayor Says

Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk last night offered the Kingston Taxpayers League a chance to make a workable cut in his proposed budget, following a two-counting of its figures, largely by members of the taxpayers' group, at a public hearing attended by 50 persons in the Common Council chamber, city hall.

William Gaffney, of the taxpayers' budget committee, said he felt the organization could cut the proposed expenditure of $1,300,000 which sets the tax rate at $13.08, by ten per cent, and the mayor said he was willing to have them do so if they could keep city government in proper proportion.

Spokesmen for the league pressed combining the duties of the aldermen and supervisors of the city in one office, ending expensive bureaus of the police and fire departments, the city park system, and proposed new heating system for the city hall to provide heat for schools of the vicinity, and the library.

They questioned a proposed $1,500 raise in salary for the corporation counsel, asked that the municipal auditor be paid strictly on a paying basis, and proposed cutting out the city hall building, the city hall to provide heat for schools of the vicinity, and the library.

Mayor Newkirk asked for specific suggestions on how to make such proposed cuts, and said he would consider the suggestion that the city hall be paid on a paying basis, and proposed cutting out the city hall building, the city hall to provide heat for schools of the vicinity, and the library.

Breitel Selection Stirs Belief 'Boss' May Quit Politics

Governor's Counsel Made Justice of Supreme Court; Warns Forecasters

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 29 (AP)—Thomas E. Dewey flatly renounced future presidential ambitions but kept politicians guessing today whether he would seek a third term as governor.

Dewey last night appointed his counsel, Charles D. Breitler, to the state Supreme Court and thereby fanned the flame of speculation that he would retire to private life at the end of his term, Dec. 31, 1950.

The appointment to the bench of a close aide, lent some credence to reports Dewey would not make himself available for re-nomination for governor next year, despite increasing pressure by influential Republicans to get him to run again.

However, Dewey warned against drawing that inference. But he made it crystal clear he would not take another crack at the Republican presidential nomination—at least in the foreseeable future.

He said specifically he would not seek the nomination in 1952, 1956 or 1960. Asked about the years beyond 1960, he laughingly remarked at a news conference that he would be "lucky to be alive" 10 years hence. He is 47.

The 41-year-old Breitler, who has been associated with Dewey since 1935, was one of the star performers on the "Dewey team," the department follows closely the resignation of Elliott V. Bell, another top-ranking member of the "brain trust" that helped Dewey win the G.O.P. presidential nomination in 1944 and 1948.

Bell quit as state superintendent of banks to join a New York city publishing house.

When a reporter asked if he cared to say what plans he might have for next year, Dewey replied: "When and if I have anything to say on political subjects I'll say them, and there's no use of either speculating or asking questions."

Meanwhile, unconfirmed reports circulated on Capitol Hill that Dewey would appoint his secretary, Paul Lockwood, as a member of the Public Service Commission. Such a development would mean the departure of a third member of the "Albany team."

Under a law enacted by the 1949 Legislature, the governor may appoint two additional members to the P.S.C. if the two-member commission certifies that additional commissioners are needed for proper disposition of business.

Breitler will fill the vacancy caused by the death earlier this month of Supreme Court Justice (Continued on Page 5, Col. 3)

Dewey to Demand U. S. Give States Taxing Powers

Billion Yearly Is Taken Away From Them, Governor to Say in Message

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 29 (AP)—Governor Dewey will demand next week that the federal government surrender to the states taxing powers that net $1,000,000,000 a year.

It will highlight a sharp attack on the Truman administration's fiscal policies.

In his annual message to the Legislature at the opening of the 173rd session Wednesday, Dewey will cite the gasoline and amusement taxes as among levies he believes the state should collect.

The governor, who last night renounced future presidential aspirations, also will disclose that New York must dip into one of its tax stabilization reserve funds in order to avoid a deficit at the end of the current fiscal year, March 31.

He will repeat to the lawmakers what he has said several times recently: That he will recommend no state tax increases for 1950-51, despite declining revenues and the press of mandated expenditure in aid of localities.

Authoritative sources have said the 1950-51 state budget will be from $5,000,000 to $10,000,000 less. (Continued on Page 8, Col. 1)

U.S. Spends Cash on Bombs, Not Child Care, Is Report

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE (Associated Press Science Editor)
New York, Dec. 29 (AP)—Top American scientists today heard the federal government accused of neglecting child health research while spending millions on bombs.

Dr. Leona Baumgartner, of the Children's Bureau, Washington, D. C., made the statement before the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Only a few thousand dollars a year of federal money goes for child health research, she said, but more than half a billion is spent on other research, including immense sums on bombs and atomic energy.

By contrast, she said, children are by far the most important product of the United States.

"What we are after," she said, "both educators and doctors, is to help in raising a new generation of human beings who are buoyantly healthy in body and spirit; whose creativeness and social responsibility are given the greatest possible opportunity for expression; who have an unchallengeable conviction of their own worth and the worth of other people."

"This is the kind of positive health we are after. This is the quality of people we are convinced can truly build a democratic society."

Dr. Baumgartner said there are 20,000,000 American children with poor teeth, 4,000,000 with poor sight, 1,000,000 with poor hearing, 200,000 with epilepsy, and 170,000 with cerebral palsy.

And, she said, despite the $7,500,000 Congress annually gives the states to help sick children, the states are forced to turn down thousands of children a year for lack of funds.

She said this year there are 30,000 crippled children unable to get help.

She wants the research to go much farther than child diseases—to cover, for example:

The child who has actual pains due to taking a school test; the child who can't do good work because of home worries; the many millions of children who live the foundation for mental troubles; the great puzzle of why some children have more of the accidents.

Dr. Baumgartner said accidents are the largest cause of child deaths over age one.

She also urged research on how to aid parents with child problems.

"Probably never before," she said, "were parents so eager for guidance."

Hungary Seizes Companies Owned by Foreign Sources

Budapest, Hungary, Dec. 29 (AP)—Hungary's Communist government today seized a large number of foreign-owned companies, charging they were being used to build up espionage and sabotage rings.

Among those ordered nationalized was the Standard Electric Works, a subsidiary of the American-owned International Telephone and Telegraph Company.

The foreign officials—an American and a Briton—and a Hungarian manager of the company are in a Hungarian jail charged with espionage and sabotage.

The government also broadened its nationalization program by taking over all Hungarian-owned enterprises employing more than 10 persons and all printing plants employing more than five.

This was considered a long step toward further socialization of the country's economy.

Compensation was promised for the foreign and domestic-owned nationalized plants.

The foreign companies seized had previously been exempted in 1948 from nationalization, although every Hungarian manufacturing firm employing more than 100 persons was nationalized at that time.

Minister of State Khrushchev, who directs the nation's economy, announced the seizure as "absolutely necessary" to wipe out the remains of foreign holdings, to these undertakings from being used for subversive machinations.

Recent government announcements have declared that the officials of the International Telephone and Telegraph Company in jail have confessed to police they were guilty of spying and plotting sabotage. They are Robert Vozy, American, and Edgar Sany, British, both of whom were arrested with the Hungarian manager of the company, Imre Gelgen, in November.

"Foreign imperialists have been using the owners and leaders of these undertakings (companies)," George said, "to build up espionage rings and prepare sabotage actions."

He said such activities had been going on in the Hungarian subsidiary of the Standard Oil Company (Murot) and the Standard Electric Works, both of which were included in today's nationalization decree.

Others nationalized included the Hungarian branches of Shell Oil Company, Vacuum Oil Company, Standard Oil Company, the Dutch-owned Phillips Radio Company, the Swiss-owned Brown-Boveri Electrical Works and various textile factories.

Lutzel Is Indicted On Murder Count

Alleged Slayer of Woman Arraigned Before Elsworth

Theodore Gustav Lutzel, 47, an unemployed carpenter who had been rooming at Rosendale, was charged by the grand jury today with murder, first degree, for the alleged shooting of Ruth B. Bergemann of High Falls on November 27, last.

Lutzel, formerly of Brooklyn, walked into the Elizabeth street police station in New York city some hours after the lifeless body had been found lying on the highway in front of the High Falls postoffice and gave himself up.

Miss Bergemann's car was later found in the Times Square area and it is charged that Lutzel fled to the city in the car after the shooting.

Arraigned under the first degree indictment before Supreme Court Justice Roscoe V. Elsworth shortly before noon today, Lutzel said he had no attorney and no funds to employ counsel. He asked that counsel be assigned.

A formal plea of innocent was entered, subject to any motions which may be deemed advisable after counsel is assigned by County Judge John M. Coughlin.

whose jurisdiction the case was transferred. Lutzel was remanded to the custody of Sheriff George Smith.

An investigation made after the body of Miss Bergemann had been found, disclosed that she and Lutzel had been out together during the evening preceding the shooting. He had once worked at the Bergemann farm near High Falls.

The body of Miss Bergemann was found on the highway in the village of High Falls by Sterling S. Jansen of Elgh Falls at 2 a. m. on Sunday morning, November 27, last. At first it was believed she had been a hit and run victim until a bullet hole was (Continued on Page 20, Col. 5)

Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

New York, (AP)—Most people would rather look backward than forward for a very simple reason. It is easier to remember where you've been than to figure where you're going.

Everybody now is taking a retrospective glance back at the last 50 years—some fondly, some sadly.

And it's a popular pastime to debate what were the most significant events of the 20th Century up to now. But there ought to be two such lists. One would have such impersonal things as the invention of the airplane or the atom bomb, undoubted landmarks in the progress of the human race. But such men also had their share of the personal, the individual, the human in the continuing story of mankind but of standard importance to himself.

The airplane, for example, has done little for me except to get me more quickly to places I usually don't want to go to at all. And as for the atom bomb—why, I probably wouldn't know it if it blew up in the next block.

Look on Ruffian
On the other hand, in the autumn of 1918, there occurred on the playground of the Irving Grammar School in Kansas City a happening that changed my whole career. I took on a ruffian in the second grade who was bullying some girls in the class. I threw one punch—and all I needed for Christmas was two front teeth. This made me a lifelong pacifist, and I have hated war and distrust the Sir Galahad legend ever since.

You may remember 1934 as the first hot summer when Alvin Karpis was giving Oscar W. Underwood 24 votes in the Democratic National Convention. But that was the year the Gilda Gray of our seventh grade threw me over for a taller boy, and I made a mortal note that there must be something you can trust more than women.

(Editor's note: What?)
(Boyle's note: Don't rush me—I'm still looking.)

A lot of folks recall 1929 as the beginning of the great depression. But I remember it for the day I lost my entire fortune—$4.50—playing pool with a friend down the street from Junior College. From then on Arnold Rothstein had the betting field to himself. I knew I would never be a gambler, and if racetracks today had to depend on me for hay they would soon be eating each other.

Swimming Pain On
There was a day I thought I'll never learn to swim, but I kept on until I did. And 18 years later that day paid off. One of Gen. Patton's landing craft hit a coral reef, and I had to paddle the last 50 feet to Africa.

And there was the day I came home from university and told my mother there were some students whose families did more for them than mine. She broke into tears, and I knew what it must be to sacrifice for a child and have it turn out both dumb and ungrateful. I would have given my arm to unsay what I had said.

Well, there were other days to do better.
You have your own list, too. What's on it? But isn't it true that it's the little events few others remember that made the biggest noise in your life? The large events did make our century—it's the small ones that bent us to the shape we are.

Pope's Voice Is Recorded for Sale

Vatican City, Dec. 29 (AP)—The voice of Pope Pius XII as well as the tone of the bells of Saint Peter and music for the solemn ritual of canonization have been recorded for worldwide distribution.

These recordings will enable many who cannot come to Rome for the 1950 Holy Year to hear in their own homes the voice of the Pontiff and the ritual and music of some of the Catholic Church's most solemn ceremonies.

The recordings range from a tiny disc made by Vatican radio, which can be sent as a postcard, to a symphony album of the ritual of canonization and solemn papal Mass.

The tiny postal recording contains the apostolic benediction "Benedictus" to the city of Rome and the world, which the Pontiff pronounces from time to time usually at the end of his more important addresses. It is in Latin.

The album of canonization and solemn papal Mass is being produced in the United States by Kyrie Recordings of New York from recordings made by Vatican radio during canonization ceremonies in Saint Peter's Basilica in 1917.

"This—one of the most ambitious recordings ever made of ceremonies of the Catholic Church—includes the voice of the Pope, music by the celebrated Sistine and Julian choirs of the Vatican, the flourish of silver trumpets sounding upon the arrival of the Pontiff in the basilica for the canonization ceremony and the benediction of the bells of Saint Peter's announcing to the world the creation of a new Saint of the Church. In addition, Vatican radio directors said that other records of the Pope's voice in various languages—selected from his speeches—will soon be produced by companies in America which have acquired recording rights.

First Minted Coins

New Economic Era Seen As Emerging From Security

Washington, Dec. 28 (AP)—America's rush to provide for its old age—by Act of Congress, by bargaining, or by strikes if necessary—may tag 1949 as the year of departure into a new economic era—the "Age of Security."

On New Year's Day the Social Security tax will increase by half. By spring Congress will, by all present evidence—complete its present program of raising social security pensions and wrapping perhaps 11 million more workers under protection.

The big unions, scoring what they call "inadequate" Federal pensions, are out to nail down security for their own members. The drive has sent most of big industry scrambling to the adding machines.

Counting the plans already in force and those newly won on the picket line, "private" pensions to day call for contributions about as great as the Federal government will collect in Social Security taxes.

The total—private and Federal—approached $5 billion a year. The sum gives every promise of mounting for years to come. It is becoming an economic force. The government cannot weigh its impact, but can and does worry about it.

Even that isn't all. It doesn't count the funds poured into pensions for firemen, police, teachers and other city, state and Federal workers. It omits the employees of hospitals, churches, charities and non-profit bodies. It doesn't count the railroad retirement system or the tax-supported pensions of soldiers and sailors.

It doesn't include state pensions for residents. In California and elsewhere old age election campaigns gave prosperous 1949 the political look of the depression days, when pension plans called "ham and eggs" and "30 every Thursday" were bywords. Some states came close to voting themselves into near-insolvency to take care of their oldsters.

Rosier Dreams Ahead. Rosier dreams lie ahead. Secretary of Labor Tobin is plugging for a $100 a month Federal pension for "every retired person." President Truman has not called him off the campaign.

The "Mr. Rebellious" of Capitol Hill, Senator Taft of Ohio, says this would cost $12 billion a year. (Social Security officials agree it would cost at least that.) Taft says it would have to be paid from taxes, because it would be impossible to amass an insurance fund big enough to swing it. (Most officials, and all insurance men, agree with that, too.)

So Senator Taft proposes that the Senate Finance Committee start an immediate study of the "feasibility" of $100 pensions for all at the age 65. That is $200 a couple.

This may prolong the Senate hearings on the pending Social Security bill. Meantime by comparison it would raise the minimum pension from $10 to $25 a month and boost the maximum for an aged couple from $85 to $125.

But passage seems certain. The House approved it last session by a vote of 333 to 14. This is an election year, and both party platforms call for improvement of Social Security. The pensions now average only $26 a month.

Still, in the entire government, nobody knows exactly what gap the government benefits are trying to fill, or what part of the gap is being filled, by the fast-rolling drive of the unions.

As many as 8 million workers, the Social Security Administration believes, may now be covered by private plans. The insurance trade thinks the total is higher.

About 13,000 pension and profit sharing plans now exist, says the Bureau of Internal Revenue. Most of them are pension plans, but neither the bureau nor anyone else knows exactly how many, nor what average pension is paid. Insurance officials estimate that annual contributions to private plans exceed $2 billion. They may add up to $2,500,000,000 which is as much as the government will collect in 1950 from the Social Security payroll tax under the new 1½ per cent rate.

Figures do not exist so far as officials know, to indicate how many billions in private trust funds in the form of accumulated "reserves" for future pension payments.

The government holds $1,585,000,000 in trust for the federal system. The private trusts, at any rate, are big enough to be a major factor in the country's store of capital for investment—and therefore, a governing wheel in industrial expansion and economic growth.

Federal officials agree that the private pension systems are beneficial as a supplement to federal pensions.

Vast Problems Ahead. In the immediate foreground is the question whether 1949's "fourth round" of wage settlements, which turned into pension settlements in some major industries, will produce a flurry of inflation in 1950.

United States Steel already has announced a $4 a ton price increase. Will that mean higher-priced autos, home appliances and other consumer "hard goods"? And will the auto, aluminum and other industries which also yielded to pension demands find the cost so large that the public must bear it?

The unions—and in the case of steel, a presidential fact-finding board—said the cost could be absorbed. But the steel price boost indicates that the "fourth round" will no more be absorbed than were the first three rounds.

From the company viewpoint pensions are the same as wages. They are one of a number of "non-wage" labor costs which have soared eight-fold in the last 20 years. They include welfare and hospital funds, discounts given workers and the numerous "fringe" demands arising at every bargaining table.

The unions reply—and economists agree—that while the pensions are less so than wage boosts of the same amount per worker, they don't put dollars into the worker's pocket for immediate spending.

And from a longer viewpoint, the money is taken out of the income stream. It is held in trust for safe investment, rather than turned loose for consumption.

So, looking beyond 1950 some economists believe the net impact will depend on business conditions. If we are in for an inflationary decade, the funds will tend to curb rising prices. If deflation is the long-range problem, the funds will be less help than if the dollars were buying merchandise.

Some officials now are studying whether the government should lay down ground rules for pension trusts, like those under which insurance companies operate. Those are only samples of the policy problems which confront the government, as by-products of the giant pension system which is springing up alongside the government's own system.

So far, there are few answers. The "age of security" is dawning in confusion.

Go Back to Black

Denver (AP)—After experimenting with radio patrol cars painted black and white, the Denver police department is going back to all black. This is fine with one captain who told reporters, "The pigeon and squirrel detail can't even sneak up on the pigeons and squirrels any more. The pests can see the cars coming blocks away."

Looks for Work at 107

Ocean Park, Calif., Dec. 29 (AP)—Cipriano Chavez, 107, laughed when police found him and told him he had been reported missing. "Oh, I can take care of myself," he smiled. "I was only looking for work." His daughter, Mrs. Josephine Garcia, told officers yesterday that Chavez had been working regularly in a garden until this year. "Then he was hit by a bus," she explained. That dived him down a little. Born in Sinaloa, Mexico, in 1842 Chavez came here as a young man of 34.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, DECEMBER 29, 1949

FARMERS AND PRODUCTION

The country's efforts to take care of its farmers show better than anything else how puzzling our affairs can be today.

At the root of the matter is the fact farmers can produce more crops than people can buy at present prices. To assure the producers a decent income, the government has built complex machinery for shoring up the prices of the things they grow.

But this in turn has acted as a lure to farmers to produce more and more. This year's corn output will be the second highest on record, the wheat crop the fourth biggest. Production of many other commodities will be high.

Committed to supporting major farm prices, the government has no choice when market prices drop below support levels but to take the products off farmers' hands at an agreed figure. The operation of this plan has left the government owning mountains of eggs, potatoes, corn, wheat, tobacco, cottonseed and other items.

The situation has gone so far that alarmed officials are working hard to choke off this flow of unmarketable commodities into government warehouses. Next year cotton, corn and wheat all will be under federal acreage controls. Some crops already are restricted, and more may be added to the list.

In all this rush to halt rising surpluses there is an ironic twist. For while one set of government officials wrestles with unwieldy output, another group is bending all its energies toward stepping up both acreage and production.

Some $300,000,000 in conservation funds is being spent to help farmers improve their soil so they can grow more and better crops. Agricultural researchers are busy driving toward the same goals. And these efforts are paying off in higher yields at the very time other officials are seeing surpluses in their sleep.

As if this were not enough, the Bureau of Reclamation is every year opening more western land for irrigation farming. For 1949-50 the addition to useful soil will come to more than 400,000 acres.

We can't stop trying to improve our often badly depleted soils or adding to basic farm resources, especially when all signs point to a population advance of about 25 per cent in the next generation.

It looks as if the contradiction in this situation will have to be corrected at the other end. What we need is a price program that will protect farmers against heavy loss but will not act as a lure to production until the market demand warrants greater output.

UNFINISHED SHIP

Economy is known to take queer paths through the labyrinth of government. One of those appears to have led to the decks of the unfinished battleship Kentucky. The ship is said to be about eighty per cent completed, but the Navy has announced there are no plans to complete the job.

Now a battleship costs a lot of money. If the Kentucky is eighty per cent completed, probably more than that proportion of her total cost has already been invested in her. The Kentucky is a victim of changing strategy. Started during the war, she was redesigned later and was to be the first battleship implementing the lessons of the Second World War, but already ideas of naval warfare have changed so much that the battleship as a fleet weapon has been almost totally discarded. Only one battleship, the Missouri, actually remains in service today in the American fleet.

Perhaps it would now be throwing good money after bad to complete the Kentucky. If that is so we can only look at her expensive hulk and wish that we had thought a little more and jumped a little less in the period immediately after the war. We might resolve in the future to be more certain of the wisdom of our plans before beginning to execute them.

It is not only in building battleships that we need to apply such a resolution. We are inclined to leap before we look in many matters, both governmental and private. Private blundering may be a private affair. But

'These Days'

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

THE HALF-CENTURY YEAR — IV

In 1900, the social center of American life was the church. The American people were religious, deeply attached to their various sects, reading the Bible not only in church but even at home. Prayer at table or in the parlor was not unusual. Many American Christians were "fundamentalists," that is, they accepted literally every word in the Old and New Testaments as revealed truth. The largest numbers church-goers among the Protestants were Methodists.

A great religious revival had occurred in the Nineties, under the leadership of Dwight L. Moody with whom was associated Ira D. Sankey. Moody was an evangelical orator; Sankey was a hymn-singer. It is impossible in 1950 even to estimate the force that these men released in their generation. Their style of religious preaching was followed by many others, traveled over the country and some of them to other countries. The most interesting in the early years of the century was Billy Sunday with his song leader, Homer Rodheaver, whose trombone is a living memory to anyone who ever heard it.

Of course, there were Rationalists, Agnostics, Atheists, Socialists and Anarchists who conducted a steady attack on religion. Undoubtedly the greatest orator in American life in the later decades of the 19th Century was Robert Ingersoll, the Rationalist, out of Peoria, Illinois, the same city that gave American Monismor Fulton Sheen, the greatest orator of the Roman Catholic Church today. Such Rationalists as Emma Goldman, the brilliant Anarchist, travelled the country, attacking God and the Bible, as the evangelists spoke God's word.

Only a nation deeply religious could have devoted itself pro and con to this debate, which headed up in the Scopes trial at Dayton, Tennessee, in 1925, over evolution, the contestants being William Jennings Bryan, often Democratic candidate for President, and Clarence Darrow, the lawyer. It was a conflict between Fundamentalism and Modernism, between religious faith, and the latest version of science. The entire country was stirred by this trial, the newspapers covering it plentifully and often heaping great ridicule on the state of Tennessee which forbade the teaching of evolution.

Young intellectuals, even among the clergy, at the beginning of this century, were influenced by a European literature, hardly read in 1950. Ibsen, Breuer, George Bernard Shaw, Tolstoy, Matthew Arnold and a host of others were devoured. They were reading Thomas Hardy's lectures among the clergy, the higher criticism, emanating from Germany, deeply influenced by Schleiermacher, produced a profound impression.

Protestant Christianity swayed in many places from a religion of the Bible to an ethical system, which, while accepting Jesus as among the great moral teachers of the human race, devoted itself to social service. Many clergymen ceased to preach with texts from the Bible; they turned rather to discussions of plays, books, politics. The sermon became the sole attraction of their services. The church was kept engaged during every day of the week, but as much as a social center as a religious institution.

At the same time, the tremendous emphasis on science, particularly the biologic sciences, broke down the authority of the Bible among young people in the early decades of the century. During Prohibition, especially as a result of the moralists of the jazz age, with its bathtub gin and the unbelievably careless conduct of parents in the presence of their children, social restraints so essential in an orderly society were lessened. Divorce increased almost to its recognition as an institution. The Moral Code seemed no longer to frown on illicit sex relations, newspapers and radio devoting considerable space to normal reports of such relationships among persons whose fame was not a result of achievement but of "glamor."

As 1950 is approached, moral problems attract renewed attention. There is an extraordinary revival of interest in religion. Church attendance has increased and the Bible has regained its popularity. Not the least significant factor in this resurrection of interest is the radio performance of "The Greatest Story Ever Told," the work of Fulton Oursler, a layman converted to Roman Catholicism.

But the greatest factor of all was the war and its aftermath and the horrors of Mexican materialism as evidenced in Soviet Russia and its satellites. (Copyright, 1949, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

MANY CURED OF MENTAL ILLNESS

The whole world has been in such a turmoil with two wars within a period of one generation, that there are more men and women in need of treatment for mental and emotional disturbance than in any time in history. Even before World War II, scientists predicted that within a period of 50 years, at the rate of increase in mental diseases, one half of the world would be needed to take care of the other half. Fortunately, the treatment came into use at that time and thousands of patients in mental hospitals were able to return to their regular or other occupation, and other thousands became well enough to return to their homes and needed no hospital treatment of any kind.

An organization that is keeping abreast of all the newer methods of understanding and treating mental ailments is the National Committee for Mental Hygiene, which works on behalf of mental patients as do many other organizations.

In "Health Bulletin for Teachers," the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company outlines the aims of the mental hygiene movement as follows:

(1) To remove the age-old stigma attached to mental illness so that it will be accepted in all its forms as real, treatable, and in many cases preventable. (2) To inform the public of the facilities, such as psychiatric clinics and out-patient departments for observation, now available in their communities, including mental hygiene and child guidance clinics and psychiatric hospitals. (3) To increase the resources for training psychiatric personnel (psychiatrists, psychologists, psychiatric nurses and psychiatric case workers) for developing psychiatric research, broadening the field of child psychology, and for helping us all to learn what it means to be healthy minded and how to prevent a tendency to neurotic trends, and to detect in ourselves, our children, and our relatives and friends the danger signals which show that professional help is needed.

There is at present no greater need than that for the work of the National Committee for Mental Hygiene, an organization equipped to help those formerly doomed to spend their whole lives in overcrowded mental hospitals.

public waste is costly for all of us, and if we are ever to get the cost of government down to a reasonable level again we must do less wasteful blundering. The unfinished Kentucky is a multi-million dollar reminder.

Funny How Our Own Babies Are the Best Looking

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington—One American ambassador not likely to stay long at his present post is delightful, garrulous George Wadsworth, U. S. envoy to Turkey.

Wadsworth follows a schedule that runs his staff ragged. He plays bridge until after 3 a. m., gets down to his office about noon, goes out for golf right after lunch, sees callers at 6 p. m.

If an American businessman wants to see the ambassador, he is usually invited in at six, but finds so many other callers grouped around the mantel that he can't discuss anything private.

What drives Wadsworth's staff really wild is his belief in strict protocol. He demands, for instance, that no one of lesser rank leave a dinner party until the top ranking guest has departed. And since the ambassador usually outranks everyone else, other guests have to twiddle their fingers until 3 a. m., until he gets up from the bridge table.

Once when a young maid, not in good health, tried to leave a party at midnight, Wadsworth put her in her place with: "Where are you going, darling?"

Note—A great admirer of the Arabs, Wadsworth's denunciation of the Jews is so vigorous it is embarrassing. When Arab dignitaries pass through Istanbul, he is a frequent visitor at the airport to greet them.

National Water Survey
The U. S. Public Health Service will soon make a sweeping survey to determine the effects of water shortage and water pollution on the nation's health.

Federal health officials privately report that the lack of facilities to decontaminate river water—which most Americans drink—is shocking. A sudden breakdown of these subgrade facilities, they say, could lead to serious water shortages in other cities besides New York.

More than 10,000 new water-cleaning units are needed throughout the nation to decontaminate.

Communist Captives
Though the heat was taken off the Chinese Communists after Angus Ward's release, the State Department is still trying to free two other Americans from Communist hands. They are Marine M/Sgt. Elmer Bender of Cincinnati, Ohio, and the Navy Chief Electrician William Smith, of Long Beach, Calif.

These men have already endured one icy winter in an underground Chinese jail, but the public clamor in their behalf hasn't been loud enough to arouse the State Department.

Believing, however, that two enlisted men are entitled to the same protection as one of the State Department's own employees, this column has investigated the case of Bender and Smith. They disappeared on a routine training flight near Tsingtao, China, on October 19, 1948—one year and two months ago. Word reached the navy over the Chinese grapevine on November 4 that they had landed in Communist territory, were alive and in good health. This was confirmed by additional reports on January 11 and March 22, 1949.

A Communist agent, representing the pair's captors, got in touch with the navy later and offered to negotiate their freedom. He reported that Bender and Smith had been moved from Hsia Tien to Nan Tsun, China about February 15. The navy delivered a written document asking for their release, received an answer that the navy would be put in touch with the "highest authorities." However, no further word came through, so the navy turned the matter over to the State Department.

That began the series of notes to Chinese Communist officials. Finally Mrs. Smith on July 23, 1949, appealed to Congress.

As the navy has evacuated China, my husband has been left behind without supplies and medicine. Mrs. Smith pointed out I have never been able to correspond or send his supplies. I have two small children, one his father has never seen. My children need their father as I need him.

Can't Even Write Families
On August 4, Ernest A. Gross, assistant secretary of state, informed Congress:

"Our diplomatic and consular officials in China are doing everything possible to secure information concerning the welfare of Mr. and Mrs. Gross. I am sure that the Bureau of Information of the Department of State will receive from the American consular general at Peiping further approach to the authorities there."

One month later, Gross promised again: "The matter is again being brought to the attention of the highest Chinese Communist authorities at Peiping."

Another month passed, on October 18, Gross reported sadly: "The consul at Tsingtao on October 10, 1949, addressed an informal memorandum to the local Communist authorities stressing the humanitarian aspects of the two cases. This approach was without satisfactory response from the local authorities who were 'instructed' to inform the consul that they no longer knew the whereabouts of Mr. Smith and Mrs. Bender."

Latest word from the State Department said: "On November 25, 1949, our consul general at Peiping sent a letter to Chou En-lai who is in charge of the foreign relations of the recently established Chinese Communist regime requesting that he cause an early investigation of the matter to be made to the end that the men be permitted to return to their families with their families regarding their personal welfare."

Note—what the State Department is up against, of course, is the impossibility of sending armed force into China to rescue two men. However, it would seem that it should not have required a year to ask the Communist foreign minister that the men have the privilege of writing their families.

Progressive Republicans Welcome Dewey's Non-Candidacy Announcement

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Dec. 28.—Firm announcement by Governor Dewey that he does not intend to become a candidate for the Republican nomination in 1952 will be received with enthusiasm by progressive Republicans for a reason that isn't at all personal. Nor does this imply the slightest diminution in respect for the man who twice ran for the presidency.

For Mr. Dewey can be expected to fill a gap in the Republican party leadership that has been a severe handicap to the party. The New York governor, as an actual or potential candidate, has not been able to speak forthrightly heretofore because of the conflicting viewpoints within the Republican party. If he were to prepare himself for another nominating contest he would be obliged to pander and suppress his views on the Republican party's duty to the country under our two-party system.

Being freed of any handicaps which could conceivably alienate a large and influential wing of Republicanism, Mr. Dewey can conduct a debate in help clarify Republican objectives.

While Mr. Dewey would probably be the last man to accept the phrase "me-tooism" as a definition of his political philosophy, he will doubtless be ready to take up the challenge which is coming from the ultra-conservative wing of the party—a faction composed of sincere and conscientious men, mostly in business, who think that the Republican party in order to succeed must be the exact antithesis of everything the Democrats stand for.

The Republicans have failed to win back to their fold countless numbers of independent voters who have felt that the word "progressive" was first used in the Bull Moose days of Theodore Roosevelt was a better definition of the Republicanism of Abraham Lincoln than the staid conservatism of Warren Harding or Calvin Coolidge's administration.

It is true that there are many faltering and fainting in the so-called New Deal or New Deal program and that sooner or later in America, as in New Zealand and Australia, the people will repudiate "left-wingism," but in doing so they will not wish to turn away from the progressive measures which now have been established as a part of modern economic life.

There are those who say the party is a long way from being a conservative party. There are many who say it is a long way from being a party of progress. But there is one thing that is true: the party is a long way from being a party of compromise.

Also it is a long way from being a party of compromise. It is a party of compromise. It is a party of compromise. It is a party of compromise.

Hervey Allen, 60, Is Dead in Miami

Miami, Fla., Dec. 29 (AP)—Hervey Allen, world-famous author of "Anthem," died of a heart attack at his winter home here yesterday. He was 60.

The noted author's body was found on the bathroom floor and Dr. Franz Stewart, heart specialist, said he apparently was stricken while preparing to shave. He frequently worked late at night and slept late, so no alarm was felt when he failed to appear in the morning. Mrs. Allen found his body about 1 p. m. (EST).

Allen had maintained a winter home here since 1933. He had a summer home at Cazenovia, N. Y. At the time of his death he was working on a book called "City in the Dawn," fourth and last in a series dealing with pre-Revolutionary days in the United States. "City in the Dawn" dealt with Philadelphia.

William Hervey Allen was born in Pittsburgh, Pa., December 8, 1889. He attended schools there and was appointed to Annapolis in 1913. An injury suffered in athletics forced him to resign with an honorable discharge.

He served with the Pershing Expedition into Mexico in 1915 and was wounded in France in World War I.

He was information specialist for the Atlanta Regional Office of War Manpower Commission in World War 2.

He studied at Harvard, taught English at high schools in South Carolina and lectured at Columbia University and Vassar College.

His literary career began in 1921 and included many books, among them "Wampum and Old Gold," "Israel," "Action and Aquila," and "The Forest and the Port."

"Anthem," which he began in Bermuda in 1932 and finished in 1933, brought him his greatest fame.

While at Vassar he met Ann Hyde Andrews, whom he married in 1927. In addition to his widow, he is survived by two daughters, Marjorie, 20, and Mary Ann, 18, and a son, Richard, 13.

North Carolina's $2,000-mile highway system is the largest road system maintained by any state of the Union.

BACK TO WASHINGTON AGAIN—Ready for his annual trek to Washington, along with Congress, is Frank E. Gimlett, above, seen recently at Canon City, Colo. Each year Gimlett boards a train for the capital to confer with congressmen on the state of the nation. His aim is to get the country back on a sound financial basis, with "hard money" replacing paper currency.

Wick's Present . . .

prosperous laundry owner: "Son, you are going to run for the state Senate."

Wicks, astonished and unenthused, finally agreed, but not until after Elting had said:

"So that you won't get any exaggerated ideas, I have tried to get half-a-dozen other fellows to run. None of them would, so you're it."

The job paid only $1,500 in those days and the candidate was expected to make relatively large contributions to the district's three county committees.

Wicks agreed to run with the understanding he would serve only one term.

Elting accompanied his protégé to Albany and entrusted him to the political guardianship of Senator George R. Fearon of Syracuse. Fearon later became majority leader and narrowly missed becoming his party's candidate for governor in 1936.

Learned Fast Wicks liked the Senate. He learned fast. He moved ahead with the same energy and aggressiveness that had enabled him to rise from a boyhood of underprivileged conditions in New York city, largely by educating himself in mathematics and civil engineering. He had to quit school in the seventh grade.

Subsequently, his family moved to a farm in the town of Olive, Ulster county.

At 17, Wicks took a pick-and-shovel job at $2 a day for the City of New York on the great Ashokan Reservoir project, near Kingston. Then he became an axman, he studied mathematics and engineering by mail and successively became a surveyor's rodman and transitman.

Eventually Wicks passed another civil service examination and was appointed a city engineering inspector in the construction of the first tunnel under the East river for subway trains.

Is College Trustee Today Senator Wicks is a trustee of Bard College, Annandale-on-Hudson.

In 1914, Wicks returned to Kingston, borrowed $8,500 and bought a steam laundry, which he still operates.

Wicks helped in the wash room, fired the boilers and on Sundays repaired the laundry equipment. In three years, he paid off the note. The original 20-man operation now employs about 90.

Financed College Educations Friends say Wicks has financed more than a dozen young men through college.

Wicks, handsomely gray and debonair, practices politics with the ebullient confidence and unflagging zip that belies his birthdays. He passed No. 62 the day before Christmas.

The legislative session may have a significant bearing on the political fortunes of many Republicans and Democrats next fall.

Wicks, with much at stake, and facing his first session as the administration's spokesman on the floor, says:

"I know I'm going to have a lot of fun."

Breit Selection

Samuel Null of the First Judicial District (Manhattan-Bronx).

The appointment expires Dec. 31, 1950, but Dewey said the 41-year-old Breitler, "presumably" would be the Republican candidate next fall for a full 14-year term. The post pays $28,000 a year.

Null's term was to have expired Dec. 31, 1955. He was elected on the American Labor party ticket.

Breitler has been counsel since Dewey took office Jan. 1, 1953. He was associated with him prior to that time in private law practice and as one of his chief assistants when Dewey was Manhattan's racket-busting special prosecutor and district attorney.

Children Guests of Local Rotary Club

Members of the Rotary Club on Wednesday entertained their children and young friends and the guests entertained the Rotarians in one of the most delightful programs of the year.

The young guests' entertainment consisted of vocal and instrumental numbers. The program was greatly enjoyed.

The guest speaker of the club was Bob Steele, former world's heavyweight wrestling champion, who related some of his unusual experiences while active as a football player, boxer and wrestler.

Bus Driver Is Freed

New York, Dec. 29 (AP)—John Graham, driver of a New York city omnibus corporation bus, was freed yesterday of a charge of vehicular homicide when Magistrate John J. Prendergast in an accident court held there was no evidence of culpable negligence.

Graham, of Levittown, N. Y., had been accused in the connection with the death December 5 of Jane Luzzina, about 50, who was hit by Graham's bus at Allen and Delancey streets.

Reservists Told Survival Depends On Sharp Minds

At the regular meeting this week of the 926th Volunteer Air Reserve Training Squadron, Frederick Snyder of Kingston noted lecture, world-traveler and newsman have a discursive summary of the highlights of current news. Snyder in his lecture told his audience of Air Reservists that news to his knowledge had not been so confusing and confusing as it has been in the past. Snyder said that the current news is so confusing and confusing as it has been in the past. Snyder said that the current news is so confusing and confusing as it has been in the past.

Snyder declared that the current news is so confusing and confusing as it has been in the past. Snyder said that the current news is so confusing and confusing as it has been in the past. Snyder said that the current news is so confusing and confusing as it has been in the past.

A religious person, Snyder emphasized the great words found in the Bible, "Blessed are the meek; for they shall inherit the earth." Expanding on these words, Snyder said that "we do not mean to stand still and let others slip us around, but to remember the word meekness means to be gentle and to keep our hands open and our intellects sharpened so we may at all times be ready to receive the word of God. Since only 6 per cent of the people of the entire world live in America, we must remain strong physically and mentally and in the event of armed conflict we must depend on a superior intelligence to provide the means for our victory and survival."

Snyder stated that "we must stand up to size both in our own country and before the world, that we must iron out our own differences and become in truth a strong united America."

At the conclusion of his lecture, he discussed various questions raised by those in attendance and demonstrated a rare mental adaptability in quickly moving from one unrelated subject to another giving each in turn his full, undivided thought and attention. Major Theodore Lee, USAF, thanked Mr. Snyder for giving so generously of his time and on behalf of the unit extended a standing invitation to him for another visit when time and circumstances permit.

Major Lee also announced that the training sessions for next month will be held at the American Legion building on January 10 and 24. Speakers at those meetings will include Lieutenants Joseph Deegan and William Reardon and Dr. Constock.

Price War Is Begun
Hollywood, Dec. 29 (AP)—Two of the Stater Strip's most famous supper clubs have started a New Year's Eve price war. Charlie Morrison, owner of the Mocambo, announced that he and Flynn Hoyer, owner of Ciro's, will cut their price for the evening from $2.75 a person to $1.25. "Hoyer and I decided the best way to meet competition was to start a price war," Morrison said. As an additional inducement, Hoyer offered waiters service to customers with a check in his shadow, plus complimentary taxi rides to Pasadena for the Rose Bowl game.

Held for Murder

Newark, N. J., Dec. 29 (AP)—Mrs. Louise Beauchamp, 37-year-old mother of six, is being held without bail on a murder charge. She is accused of throwing her newborn seventh child into a burning incinerator. Police said Mrs. Beauchamp admitted putting the baby girl, born only a few hours before, in the incinerator of the apartment house where she lives at 210 Orange street. At the time of her arrest last week, police quoted her as saying things were difficult enough in her household at Christmas time without another mouth to feed. Police said she told them she gave birth to the baby and tucked in the bathroom of her apartment. She had been on relief since her husband left her six months ago, she told police.

Speeding Oyster Growth

Bouzigues, France (AP)—The discovery that oysters grow four times faster in a salt-lake off the Mediterranean than they do on Atlantic Ocean breeding grounds has led to a thriving new industry here. Four hundred fishermen, linked in a cooperative, have started harvesting the 1949 oyster crop and by April they hope to exceed their 1948 total of 100,000 tons. The salty basin of Thau, a deep but mud-shored inlet of the Mediterranean, seems to be particularly rich in the tiny animal organisms on which the oysters live. Each year thousands of marenne oysters are shipped from the Atlantic breeding grounds of Arcachon to this village for the vital stages of their growth. They achieve in less than one year a growth their less lucky fellows take four years to achieve at Arcachon. Then they are shipped back to Arcachon, where they are again submerged in the Atlantic to get the green color which French gourmets require of their marennes.

Sanity Test Ordered

Frankfurt, Germany, Dec. 29 (AP)—A sanity test was ordered today for Mrs. Yvette Madsen, who is accused of slaying her U. S. Air Force officer-husband. The test was ordered by a U. S. District Court over her protest. The pretty, 22-year-old mother of two children did not even appear in court for the hearing. She said she was ill. But her doctor refused to certify that. "We'd just as well face the fact that she doesn't want to come," said District Attorney William T. Johnson of St. Louis, Mo. Her lawyer, Elmer Gower of Cumberland, Md., agreed.

Ivy Anderson Dies

Los Angeles, Dec. 29 (AP)—Ivy Anderson, 45-year-old Negro blues singer whose records made with Duke Ellington's band are collectors' items, died yesterday. She had been ill for almost three weeks with an asthmatic condition. A native of Gilroy, Calif., she was discovered in 1922 in San Francisco by Fanchon and Marco, vaudeville producers. Her greatest fame came after she joined Duke Ellington in 1929. She sang with The Duke for 13 years in Harlem's Cotton Club. Among her most famous records are one of "Stormy Weather," considered a blues classic, and "I Got It Bad and That Ain't Good." She has been doing a solo act in recent years. She is survived by her husband, Walter Collins.

Hint to Motorists

An automotive engineer has stated that every time a motorist races a thoroughly checked engine, he subjects the most vital part of his car to greater mechanical wear than it develops in a year of summer driving.

She's a Thrifty Miss

One of Kingston's thrifty little girls is Bertha Hamilton, aged 2½, of 66 Newkirk avenue, shown depositing $22 at the Uster County Savings Institution. She emptied her piggy bank, and one resembling a wallet, right at the teller's window. The pile of nickels, dimes, quarters and pennies represented her savings over a year's period. Little Bertha, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Hamilton, was taken to the bank by her grandfather, George Every, who lives with the family. (Photo-Craft Photo) use enough money for all purposes. Naturally salaries had to be paid, but we were forced to eliminate other costs." Among items omitted, he said, were those for maintenance and repairs to buildings.

I say to you we can reduce these costs—but do you want it, if we have to leave our buildings go down? In 1949, he said, only $150 was in the budget for maintenance of the city hall.

The mayor said the auditorium was used for conventions, which he felt were of general benefit to the city. Giffen questioned the value of this to the laborer downtown, and the mayor replied, "I think what helps one area in the city helps the other."

On Giffen's point as to how the growing elimination would affect the fire department, the mayor said that would have to be studied.

Explains Salaries
Salary increases in the police and fire department, as represented in this year's budget, the mayor said, were due to men required for new schedules of hours, the granting of six paid holidays and earned increments.

The increase in the engineering department, the mayor explained, was only the transfer of an amount from one category to another.

Giffen felt the city's park system was too extensive and the mayor asked if he would eliminate parks, and he answered, "I would eliminate some and some employees." He then opposed the $1,200 item for community band concerts, and the mayor asked if the taxpayers would proposed dropping the concerts.

Giffen said on his own he would, and a woman in the audience said she would also eliminate the concerts. A spokesman for the musicians union said that while the union donated some of its services to the city, he felt it could not be done in the extent of band concerts.

Next came a discussion on the $1,500 for Memorial Day purposes, and Giffen said he would eliminate the $1,200 item for the band.

are completing arrangements for an army-navy-marine-air force exercises involving some 20,000 men, which is due to be held from January through mid-March.

While Soviet ships have a right to put in at St. Thomas for supplies, water and repairs, provided they abide by U. S. port regulations—some navy people point out that the Caribbean route is the long way around for a vessel on the Europe-Vladivostok run.

It would be shorter, they say, to go through the Mediterranean to the Indian Ocean, and thence up the east coast of Asia. The Russians themselves have volunteered no explanation.

All 15 of the Soviet ships reported in the area over the past 30 months are said to be part of the reparations demanded from Finland by Russia after the war. All are new 328-ton schooners, 125 feet long.

Aside from supplies needed on the trip they carry no cargo.

The U. S. Bureau of Reclamation estimates western American rivers could generate as much electricity in a year as 600,000,000 barrels of petroleum burned in steam plants.

Dewey to Demand

than the current record outlay of $939,585,000.
A source close to the governor predicted today that Dewey would hit hard at the Truman administration in his message to the Legislature.

Dewey is expected to label the Democrats' tax policies and federal grants-in-aid program a threat to the sovereignty of the states and to their ability to meet their own responsibility.

On the other hand, Dewey will argue that the federal government is lulling the people into a state of complacency through greater grants of federal aid.

Doesn't Expect 'Sandy'
The governor will tell the joint session that he does not expect enough fiscal sanity in Washington to solve the problem.

He will commend that the state pull in its belt and do the best it can under the present tax structure.

Dewey will tell the Legislature it will be necessary for the state to tap one of its twin tax stabilization reserve funds in order to avoid a deficit at the end of the current fiscal year next March 31.

The governor will tell the Legislature that an expected surplus in the state purposes' side of the current budget would be offset by a deficit in the local assistance section.

The local assistance tax stabilization reserve now contains $59,300,000 which informed sources say, is many times the amount of the anticipated local assistance deficit.

The same sources indicated that revenue for the current fiscal year would run about three per cent below estimates.

can-controlled Legislature that total revenue in the present fiscal year will run about $100,000,000 less than it would have been the state income tax being collected at 100 per cent of the normal rate, as Dewey had proposed last winter.

A GOP revolt in the Legislature resulted in a 10 per cent forgiveness, however.

Dewey also will inform the lawmakers that the revenue in the current year would reach one billion dollars, rather than the anticipated $900,000,000, if the 1949 income tax (full rate) were now in effect.

Do You Remember

by
SOPHIE MILLER

Who remembers when the trolley came into the city after a snow storm? Mr. Matthews learned an excellent lesson from the photograph taken by Sophie Miller, the photographer on the trolley at that time. I can plan a party for the trolley. Most of the men and this accident were wearing coats. In those days the well-dressed men wore a derby and an overcoat. But I see there is one thing left, a man with an overcoat, a derby, a mustache who wears a coat, but no hat. The trolley is not enough for folks to remember their friends and neighbors, in case anyone wants to see it before it is returned.

"Grand concert and opening of the new edifice, and exhibition of the organ built for the Rondout Presbyterian Church," dated Wednesday evening, March 26, 1874. A description of this organ declares it is as complete and perfect a specimen of artistic finish and excellence as the largest, comprising 866 pipes, and 23 stops. It also has two combination pedals for producing rapid changes of registers. Those on the program were S. B. Whitney, organist of the Church of the Advent, Boston, Mrs. H. E. H. Carter, soprano, and Mrs. Agnes Gies Spring, contralto. At the bottom of the program it reads: "At the close of the concert, ladies will open the restaurant in the Chapel, where oysters, sandwiches, coffee, ice cream and cake may be procured."

There are also a number of old bills of the Union Hose Co. For instance, "bought of John McVey, practical seedman, gardener and florist, greenhouses, on Flatbush avenue. Telephone calls—Citizen's Standard 86-3. Hudson River, 71-5. (In those days we had two telephone companies, so merchants had to install two phones.) Seed store at 13 Broadway (that would make it in the Mansion House, where Mr. Lutzin, the tailor, is today.) The bill reads: June 17, 1896—50 button hole bouquets at five cents each, $2.50. The bill was paid."

Another interesting bill for the Union Hose Co. is dated June 10, 1896, for four uniforms at $3.00 each, totaling $12.00. Two cuffs 50 cents, and two gloves, 50 cents each, which were bought from Sampson Brothers. According to the illustrated letterhead, on the left is shown our present Freeman office building, over the top of the building and in the center one can make out "Sampson Brothers, the leading one price clothiers." Also there is a flag on a tall mast on which is printed "Sampson Brothers, Clothiers." No doubt, this flag could even be seen on the Rondout Creek by the boatmen. I see the brothers' names on the letterhead are, Philip, Morris and Alexander. Their Rondout store they list at Strand and Canal street. They also list a Foughkeepsie store at 302 and 304 Main street and a New York office at 9 East 4th street. This bill was paid, and I notice it is also signed by Joseph F. Sullivan, secretary, and P. J. Barry, foreman. I take it, they were of the fire company.

H. M. Barrett Dies
Mahopac, N. Y., Dec. 29 (AP)—Harry M. Barrett, 53, county clerk of Putnam county since 1937, died of a heart attack Tuesday night. One of the Republican leaders of the county, he had served as postmaster here for 12 years and as town clerk and supervisor of the Town of Carmel before becoming county clerk.

Hams Are Feature Of Holiday Fare;
Plenty Vegetables

(By The Associated Press)

Holiday menu-planners will find smoked and fresh hams featured as New Year's food specials in many stores this week, and prices down three to six cents a pound.

Large turkeys also are a shade lower than last week in most places, reflecting an easing in demand following the big Christmas dinner splurge. Other meat, poultry and dairy items are generally about unchanged.

On the produce shelves several vegetables are lower, but the changes are relatively minor. Tomatoes declined slightly as supplies from Florida and Mexico improved. Peas from the Pacific northwest—headlined by the Agriculture Department on its most plentiful foods list for the week—were lower. So were peppers, lima beans, broccoli and golden heart celery.

Unfavorable weather in California and Arizona affected the quality of lettuce reaching many large marketing centers and resulted in a wide price spread. Spinach was a little higher but shippers in as widely-separated growing regions as Virginia and Texas said it still was selling at just about their break-even point.

Heavy rains in the Pahokee area on Florida's Lake Okechobee over the week-end caused considerable damage to winter vegetables like green beans, potatoes, celery and cabbage. But produce men in northern cities said prices were little affected, because those items are plentiful.

Trying to Boost Prices
Florida citrus suppliers were observing a shipping holiday this week in an effort to push prices of their oranges and tangerines higher. Market sources in New York said it would be next week before the results would become noticeable. Florida oranges this year are only slightly lower than at the end of 1948, they said, but probably would have declined moderately if normal shipments had been continued.

The meat packing industry produced more than 22,000,000,000 pounds of meat during 1949—and almost half of that was pork, reported John F. Krey, chairman of the American Meat Institute and president of Krey Packing Co., St. Louis.

In a year-end statement, he said the industry in 1949 processed the largest peacetime supply of hogs on record, and civilian pork consumption during the past three months "appears to have been at an all-time record."

Pork Is Plentiful
"Indications are that the plentiful supply of pork will continue and that it will account for most of the 7 per cent increase in meat production expected in 1950," he said.

"In 1949, the average person ate 64 pounds of beef, 9 pounds of veal, about 4 pounds of lamb and mutton and 70 pounds of pork. In 1950, it is estimated, consumption per capita will be about the same for beef, veal, lamb and mutton, and about 76 pounds in the case of pork, making a total of 153 pounds, as compared with 147 in 1949."

Here are the foods listed by the Agriculture Department as likely to be most plentiful (and therefore thrifty to buy) for the first month of the New Year:

Apples, cranberries, oranges, winter pears, langerines, dried prunes, raisins, nuts, cabbage, celery, lettuce, spinach, canned corn, dried beans and peas.

Also, pork products, manufactured dairy products, chickens, turkeys, eggs, frozen fish, honey, molasses and sugarcane syrup.

The Dun & Bradstreet Wholesale Price Index this week was 85.72, down one cent from a week ago and 7.9 per cent below a year ago. The index compares with the year's low of 85.37 on Oct. 11 and the high of 86.12 on Jan. 4. The figure represents the total wholesale cost of a pound each of 31 foods in general use.

Linenthal Signs Play Contract

Woodstock, Dec. 29—Michael Linenthal, managing director of the Woodstock Playhouse, has signed a contract to appear in the forthcoming Broadway production of "Now I Lay Me Down to Sleep," the play adapted from the Benjamins novel. Frederick March and Florence Eldridge will star. Linenthal goes into rehearsal today. The play opens January 20 in London. Ontario, the home town of its director, Hume Cronyn of Broadway and Hollywood fame. It will play Philadelphia for two weeks before opening in New York February 20.

The vehicle, aside from the illustriousness of its author, its stars, and the auspices of its production, boasts one of the most glittering lists of backers. They include ex-Ambassador Davies, Felly Rose, Leland Hayward, Joshua Logan and Rogers, and Hornerston. Backing for Broadway plays has become increasingly difficult to get, but "Now I Lay Me Down to Sleep" was oversubscribed in only a matter of days after the production was announced.

Shakespeare Group Selects Woodstock As Permanent Base

Woodstock, Dec. 29—Announcement has been received in Woodstock from Michael Linenthal that Margaret Webster has decided that the Woodstock Playhouse will be the permanent base for her touring company. Miss Webster and her company will become summer residents of Woodstock. Her plays acted by her company will constitute the summer fare of Woodstock theatregoers. While Miss Webster's name is associated primarily with her productions of Shakespeare, Maurice Evans' Hamlet, Robertson's Othello, for example, and her own touring productions which opened last October at the Woodstock Playhouse—the Festival of Plays she plans for next summer and every summer will not be limited to Shakespeare. It will include a wide variety of shows. They will represent every mood and every period. Such plays as Room Service and Three Men on a Horse will be balanced by Shaw's Saint Joan and A Midsummer Night's Dream.

Miss Webster's decision to come to Woodstock will make the Woodstock Playhouse unique in many ways. In the first place, it will not be like any other summer theatre in the country. Woodstock alone has wood and won the lady who has been many times referred to as "the first lady of the English speaking theatre." Woodstock alone will present plays only after they have been properly rehearsed over a period and under direction that insures performances of a polish to match that of the Old Vic. Woodstock alone, because of Miss Webster's identity with the Woodstock Playhouse, will attract a public from every region of the United States. There will be an influx of theatregoers greater in number than ever before.

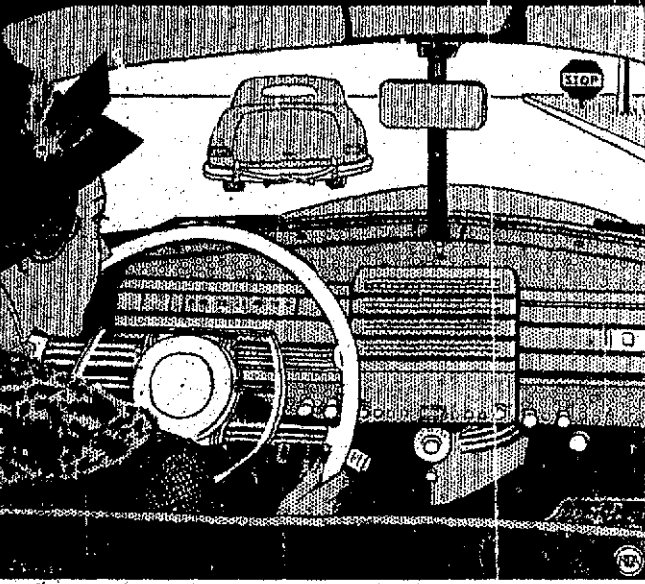

Margaret Webster's Shakespeare company which tours the country from Maine to California has won converts who, this time in advance, have decided to make Woodstock and Margaret Webster's Festival of Plays their summer objective. So intense has been the national interest in Margaret Webster's whereabouts, there is every indication that Woodstock will this summer become a Drama Festival Center just as Tanglewood in Lenox, Mass., has become a Music Festival Center.

Having decided to come to Woodstock, it is Margaret Webster's plan to develop the Playhouse as a national institution. If the Woodstock Playhouse becomes the theatre's Tanglewood, Albany, which in the past has been the farthest point of Playhouse mail-order patronage, will have to defer to Sacramento, Calif., and Seattle, Wash. Miss Webster's name in the theatre parallels in achievement and reputation the name of Koussevitzky in music. To many, however, the Boston Symphony Orchestra is known on records and by reputation. Miss Webster's touring company has been seen in person throughout the country. Woodstock, Kingston, and the whole of Ulster county will reap the harvest not only of two years' touring over thousands of miles, in every climate and every terrain and region, but of Miss Margaret Webster's lifetime which has been devoted both in England and America, to the highest achievement in the English speaking theatre of the world.

Skiers Meet Again

Woodstock, Dec. 29—At the second meeting Wednesday night of the newly formed Woodstock Ski Club, it was announced by Chairman Ruth Cohn that owing to the lack of snow there are no immediate plans for ski trips. However, Miss Cohn has been endeavoring to secure reduced rates for club members at Highmount. The next meeting of the club will be held Wednesday, Jan. 11, at 7:30 p. m. at the recreation hall of the Dutch Reformed Church.

Varsity Loses

Woodstock, Dec. 29—The Woodstock Varsity team suffered its first defeat of the season when the High Falls Varsity took Tuesday's game by the score of 61-49, at the Town Hall. Klein was high scorer for the losers with 15 points while C. Williams was the high scorer for High Falls with 22.

However, the Woodstock Jayvees were victorious the same evening over Cottkill Jayvees by 47-28. High score for the Jayvees was made by Schroeder of the

New York Milk Firms Will Decrease Prices

New York, Dec. 29 (AP)—Two big milk firms in the New York metropolitan area will cut a cent-a-quart off their milk prices Sunday.

The move follows a government order Tuesday reducing the producer's price of bulk milk.

The two companies, Sheffield Farms and Borden, said yesterday this would bring the quart price of home delivered homogenized milk down to 21 cents. Other grades of milk, buttermilk, and a milk-chocolate drink will also be reduced.

Store prices vary, depending on mark-up, but in some cases it would cut homogenized milk to 18½ cents a quart, city officials said earlier.

Sheffield and Borden also said sour cream will come down three cents a pint to 35 cents, but that sweet cream—unaffected by the government order—will stay where it is. The cuts apply in New York, Westchester county and on Long Island.

Grave Is Unmarked

West Tappan, N. Y., Dec. 29 (AP)—The body of John Flanders, 71, of the Harvard Class of 1900, one time school teacher and later a country store proprietor, lies today in an unmarked grave—buried without prayers or services by his own request. In a note he penned last summer, Flanders asked that there be neither funeral nor services at his burial. He died Sunday in Bury City Hospital.

A native of Mt. Vernon, N. Y., he taught school in Corinth and Tappan. Later he undertook to keep a country store but gave up the venture because of feeble health. He passed his declining years largely in reading.

Utah Contestant Is Crowned Queen; 'Fix' Is Charged

Miami, Fla., Dec. 29 (AP)—Blonde and blue-eyed Lillian Van Wagoner, 23-year-old air line stewardess, was crowned Orange Bowl queen last night. Six other candidates for the honor stalked out, claiming the contest was fixed.

Just after the crown was placed upon Miss Van Wagoner's head by movie star Colleen Townsend, the rival finalists walked out as newshawks hawked copies of a paper announcing the new queen.

The losers contended the early sale of the paper (The Florida Sun and Riviera Times) proved earlier rumors were true—that the queen had been selected long ago despite assurances she would be chosen at last night's ball in Coral Gables Country Club.

They claimed the paper was on sale even before the announcement was made. The paper carried a full-page tabloid size picture of the queen, whose home is in Salt Lake City, Utah.

Orange Bowl committeemen were quick to deny the accusations. Orange Bowl Chairman Dan Mahoney could not be reached for a statement and neither could the editor of the paper. Under Jordan, public relations director for the contest, had denied it was a fixed affair.

"It was not in the contest," he said. "It was purely a coincidence that the winner was picked before the contest was held." He pointed out that the contest was announced by a public vote on the 38 ballots cast in the public vote in Coral Gables. Jordan's explanation fell.

The protesting finalists said a majority of the contest would sign a petition and present it to the Orange Bowl committee.

Lupino Plans Divorce

Hollywood, Dec. 29 (AP)—Lupino plans to divorce Clark Young but will remain his housewife partner. The Hollywood actress disclosed last night that their separation is on the best terms and that the divorce action will be on the same basis. She added they will continue their association as film producers. The couple married last year. Young, she said, is at present traveling covering from a near future breakdown. She has already received notice of their current film. Lupino formerly was married to Louis Hayward and Young to Valeria Young, a radio actress.

MINASIAN'S SUPER MARKET

84-86 NORTH FRONT STREET

Fishers' Battle Leads to Charge On Policy Slips

Charles Fisher, 22 Mary's avenue, was arrested at police headquarters by Officers William Hanley and Henry Ronnenberg this morning on a charge of possessing policy slips, following the earlier arrest of his brother and brother-in-law, same address, on disorderly conduct charges.

A light between the two led to the first arrest, police said, and when Charles was brought to police headquarters, it was found he possessed the policy slips. The second arrest was made at 2 1/2 a. m.

City Judge Raymond J. Mino fined Charles $25 which he paid, on the policy charges, and imposed a 30-day suspended sentence on both for the disorderly conduct charges.

Robert Luckner, 20 of St. Brewster, street, and Donald Stewart, 21 of Port Ewen, who were arrested at headquarters last night on warrants charging third degree assault, pleaded guilty, when arraigned today before Judge Mino.

Both were arrested by Capt. William T. Keldner at 8 p. m. and the information lists Scott Vandemark, 631 Abel street, as the complainant.

It is charged that the two entered the home of Vandemark Christmas night and assaulted him.

Judge Mino adjourned the case until tomorrow morning to give the defendants opportunity to obtain counsel.

"Monstrous" Job Ahead

New York, Dec. 29 (AP)—Lawyers for 11 convicted Communists leaders, saying they face a "monstrous" job in preparing an appeal of the case, have asked for more time in which to do it. The government—after hearing the request yesterday—immediately requested the defense attorneys of stalling, and said it would fight any delay. The Communists, all members of the party's national board, were convicted last October of conspiring to teach and advocate the violent overthrow of the government. They were sentenced to fines and jail terms and released on heavy bail. The trial lasted nine months and piled up millions of words of testimony.

Old Time Fiddler Is Found Dead in His Oliverea Home

Sheridan Satterlee, 83, was found dead at his home near Oliverea Wednesday evening.

Once widely known as an "old-time fiddle player," Satterlee in recent years lived as an "aged recluse," State Trooper Ray Dunn of Phenicia said.

At one time, Satterlee owned a farm at West Branch. Older residents remember him as a popular "fiddle" player.

About 1920, he sold his farm, and retired to his two-story frame house about three miles from Oliverea toward Slide Mountain. He gradually retired from public life and at the time of his death his main contact with the world was through Joseph Donahue, rural mail carrier, who obligingly picked up and delivered Satterlee's grocery orders, Dunn said.

After not seeing the aged man about for two days, Donahue on Wednesday notified Trooper Dunn that he feared something happened to him.

Dunn and Deputy Sheriff Robert Grennie of Big Indian went to the house where Satterlee lived alone. Dunn said they found no activity except Satterlee's cat "mewing" as if she hadn't eaten for several days.

The door was open and Satterlee lying dead on the floor, Dunn reported.

Dr. Charles A. Quinn of Phenicia, who was deputized as coroner, said Satterlee had been dead about two days. He died apparently from a cerebral hemorrhage, Dr. Quinn said.

Sgt. L. Baker investigated for the state police bureau of criminal investigation.

The body was removed to the Eugene B. Gormley Funeral Home in Phenicia. Funeral arrangements will be announced.

Resignation Is Asked

Los Angeles, Dec. 29 (AP)—The Young Democrats of California have asked the resignation of James Roosevelt as Democratic National Committeeman. The entry of the eldest son of the late president into the governor's race is the reason for the action, announced William J. Tiernan and Henry James, southern and northern chairmen, respectively, of the group. They stated yesterday that Roosevelt "should resign in favor of someone who unfettered by ambitions for personal aggrandizement, may devote time to unifying the party. A spokesman for Roosevelt said, "Since the group no longer is accredited by the party, no comment is necessary."

Poughkeepsian Is Held

Ware, Mass., Dec. 29 (AP)—Frank Harper, 19, of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., was held in $5,000 bail this morning in district court on charges of breaking, entering and attempted larceny. He pleaded guilty. The break occurred early yesterday morning in a local garage. Acting Police Chief George Gallagher said that Harper admitted that he and two others had broken into the garage. Gallagher also said that Harper is wanted in Claverack, N. Y. He said that New York state police informed him they believe that Harper and his companions are responsible for about 30 recent breaks between New York city and Albany.

Fire Wrecks Building

New York, Dec. 29 (AP)—Fire early today wrecked the upper floors of a six-story Manhattan building housing a recreation center. More than 20 fire-fighting vehicles were used in battling the blaze, which was brought under control after about an hour. The building, located at 88 Trinity Place in downtown Manhattan, is owned by St. Peter's Parish House and Lending Library. Officials said it formerly housed St. Peter's Girls' School, but recently was converted to a neighborhood recreation center.

Drive-In Case

It was discovered this morning that the projection room of the Sunset Drive-In Theatre, located on Route 26, Ontario Trail, had been entered and looted. George O. Smith revealed today. He said the doors had been broken off the door but that the projectors appeared to be all right. However, theater officials will be contacted and will make an investigation. The theater is closed during the winter months.

Red Kills Self

Goeppingen, Germany, Dec. 29 (AP)—The chairman of the Communist party in nearby Salach killed himself following a visit to the Russian zone of Germany, his family said today. The family of Kurt Bushler, 38, said he vowed to quit the Communist party when he returned home last week, saying: "The Communists kill everybody who disagrees with them. I am a visitor, not a party member." He visited party headquarters, turned in his resignation and then hanged himself in his home, his family said.

Cabinet Meeting Called

Washington, Dec. 29 (AP)—President Truman has called a meeting of his cabinet for 10 a. m. (EST) tomorrow for a full discussion of the three important messages he will give to Congress after it comes back next week. Focusing up his usual weekly news conference today, Mr. Truman devoted himself to putting into final form the first of these communications—his State of the Union message.

Grass Fire Reported

A grass fire in December is not common in local fire records, but firemen were called at 11:47 a. m. to check a blaze in the Mary's avenue area. They quenched it with Indian pumps.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Dec. 29 (AP)—Heavy buying stoked railroad issues for another fast run ahead in today's market.

The balance of the market moved forward but at a calm and deliberate pace. Carrier issues, though, were all over the ticker tape at gains ranging to around a point.

Trading maintained a fast clip and turnover piled up to an impressive total.

Yesterday's carrier stocks also dominated the market. Advances ranged to an extreme of four points and helped boost the general price level to within whispering distance of the 1948-49 high.

Interest in the rails stemmed mainly from better than anticipated November income prospects for increased traffic, and the belief that many such issues were underpriced.

Among the gainers were Santa Fe, N. Y. Central, Pennsylvania R. R., Southern Railway, Baltimore & Ohio, Chesapeake & Ohio, Southern Pacific, Rock Island, Frisco, Illinois Central, Erie, and St. Paul Common and preferred.

Atlantic Coast Line hit a rough road after yesterday's 4-point jump.

Railroad issues moved up over a broad front, in the bond market. The market for U. S. governments was quiet and steady in over-the-counter dealings.

Higher in the curb were Salt Dome Oil, Pancoast Oil, Le Tourneau, and Am. M. Castle. Universal Consolidated Oil tripped more than 2 points.

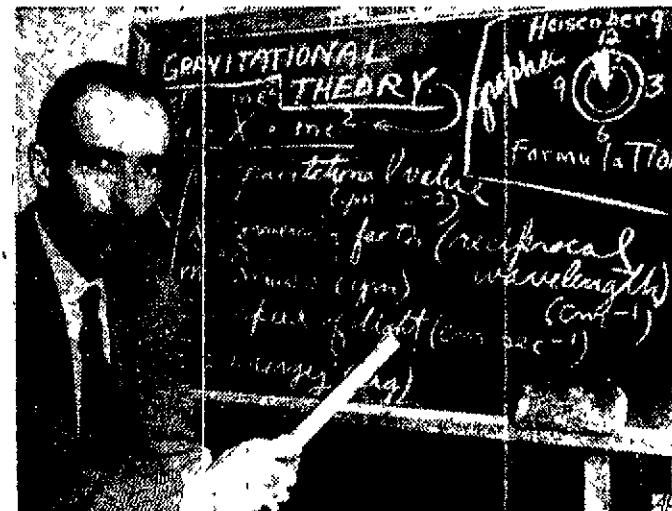

One of the most pleasing angles of last railroad earnings reports, according to followers of carrier stocks, was the very evident effect of drastic efforts at improved operating efficiency. Comments by rail executives stressed this phase of current operations.

CORN CHOWDER IS HEARTY MEAL

ONE-DISH MEAL—Make a New Year's resolution to use lots of plentiful corn. Corn chowder is a hearty dish.

BY GAYNOR MADDOX

NEA Staff Writer

Canned corn is on the United States Department of Agriculture's list of plentiful January foods. It's also on the family's list of favorite meal-in-a-dish specialties.

Corn Chowder

(4 generous servings)
Four tablespoons ham fat, butter or fortified margarine, 1 large onion, sliced, 1 No. 2 can whole kernel or cream style corn, 2 cups diced potatoes, 3 cups milk, 1 cup diced cooked or leftover ham, 1/2 cup onion, 1 teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons chopped parsley, 1/2 teaspoon Tabasco.

Add onion to fat in large saucepan and cook until tender, but not brown. If whole kernel corn is used, drain corn and add corn liquid to saucepan. If cream-style corn is used, add 1/2 cup water to saucepan. Bring to a boil and add potatoes; cover and cook 10 minutes. Add corn, milk and ham if desired. Add salt. Heat thoroughly. Add parsley and Tabasco.

Here are two more good corn recipes, each by cooking experts of the Department of Agriculture.

Corn Roulade

(Serves 4)

One-third cup of bread cubes, 1 1/2 cups cream-style corn, 2 teaspoons minced onion, 2 teaspoons finely chopped green pepper, 1/2 cup finely grated cheese, 1/2 teaspoon salt, pepper, 2 eggs, well beaten, 1/2 cup scalded milk.

Blend all the ingredients into the eggs, adding the scalded milk last. Pour into a greased loaf-pan (4x8 inches) and set in a pan of hot water. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) until set—about one hour.

Chowder, Corn, Tomato on Toast (8 servings)

Three tablespoons flour, 3 tablespoons melted table fat, 2 cups canned tomatoes, 1 onion, sliced, 2 cups canned corn, 2 teaspoons salt, 1/2 pound sharp cheese, shaved thin.

Brown the flour in a heavy skillet. Remove from skillet and blend with 2 tablespoons of the fat. Brown the sliced onion in the remaining fat, add all other ingredients except cheese, and cook about 10 minutes. Add the cheese and stir until it melts. Serve on crisp toast. Garnish with slices of hard-cooked eggs.

TOMORROW'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Stewed prunes, scrambled eggs, enriched toast, butter or fortified margarine, marmalade, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Corn, potato and ham chowder, crackers, baked apples, gingerbread, tea, milk.

DINNER: Fried quick-frozen fillets of haddock, tartare sauce, parsley potatoes, chopped spinach with egg, enriched rolls, butter or fortified margarine, celery, apple pie, cheese, coffee, milk.

or apartment. When she returned she found the little girl's hands were bleeding profusely and a small mongrel dog, the family's pet, was licking the wounds. Mrs. Martinez said she believes the dog frightened the rats away. The father of the child later found two large rats in the house.

Most card players are sports fans and I know that all of the old-timers remember back when Ed Sullivan was a sports writer. Card players admire Ed today because of his readiness to use his column or his television programs for any worthy cause.

Just recently I heard him on his television program, "The Toast of the Town," make an appeal for the late Bill Robinson. Founders of the late Ed Sullivan, Ed today because of his readiness to use his column or his television programs for any worthy cause.

Here is a hand in which you might think the declarer was playing Santa Claus, giving a few tricks away. But he has to do it to make his contract. When South opens the king of clubs, declarer should not play the ace on the first trick. He should play a small club. If South continues with the queen of clubs declarer will be smart to let South hold that trick also. When the third club is led declarer should win it with the ace and discard the three of spades from his own hand.

Declarer should now lead a small spade to his ace, then return a spade to dummy's king. Now trump a small spade and take three rounds of trump, winning the last trump in dummy with the queen. On the fourth spade declarer should discard his deuce of diamonds, thus losing only two clubs and a diamond.

Double dummy. It is trick two South should lead a small club, declarer would have to win with the ace. He would have to play a small spade from dummy and, if North played now, let it ride, forcing South to win the trick.

MODENA

Modena, Dec. 28 — Congregations of the Modena, Cliftondale and Plattkill Churches united in services in the Modena Methodist Church Sunday morning. The theme of the Christmas message was "Is Christmas a Beautiful Festival?" Choirs provided music during the services. On Sunday, Jan. 1, New Year's Communion services will be conducted in the local church by the Rev. Eryn M. Adams.

Mrs. Preston Patridge and daughter, Phyllis, visited relatives and friends in Plattkill on Monday.

Robert DuBois, student engineer at the Wesleyan University in West Virginia, is spending the holiday vacation at his home.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Seymour of Tillson were callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy DuBois and daughter, Mary Lou, Christmas Day.

Harold J. Wager of the Tilo Building and Siding Co. of Poughkeepsie attended the annual banquet held Thursday in the office of the company at Poughkeepsie.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl DeWitt and family entertained a number of guests at a Christmas dinner Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Wager spent Christmas Eve at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Nardone in Highland.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Dragotta entertained a number of guests at their home Monday.

Mrs. Bessie Gerow of New Paltz was a dinner guest of her mother and sister, Mrs. A. D. Wager and daughter on Christmas Day.

Mr. and Mrs. Simon DuBois, Barbara and Robert DuBois entertained at a family gathering Christmas for Mr. and Mrs. George Van Kleeck of Samsonville. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Seymour of Tillson, Mr. and Mrs. John Denton of Modena and Robert McPhillips of St. Andrews.

Ceremonies Rained Out

Miami Beach, Dec. 29 (AP)—Dedication ceremonies for the new lighting system at the city's Lummus Park were rained out last night. The 2,000 spectators didn't get to sing a song written especially for the occasion. The song was entitled, "Miami Beach Sun Is Always Shining." The dedication will be held tonight—weather permitting.

Merry Christmas, Peg, and God bless you!

Dewey Gives Proclamation

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 20 (AP)—Governor Dewey has designated next Monday "Emancipation Day" in the state. In a proclamation yesterday, Dewey said that many Negroes "still suffer the wrongs and handicaps of prejudice and ignorance." He pledged the state administration would "continue our efforts against discrimination" with undiminished vigor. Dewey noted that Sunday, January 1, will be the 87th anniversary of Abraham Lincoln's Emancipation Proclamation freeing the slaves.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

New York, Dec. 28 (AP)—The cost of living holds high, but is still well below last year's peak. This is announced today in a government-calculated index which has at least two points in common with the new Einstein theory.

1. The average man has about as much difficulty understanding how one is arrived at as the other.

2. To quote Einstein: "I have not yet found a way to confront the results of the theory with experimental evidence." Or, on the cost of living level—after you've finished paying all the month's bills, why doesn't your remaining cash, if any, go up and down in sympathy with the rise and fall in the Bureau of Labor Statistics' consumers' price index? Why can't you notice the difference you're told exists?

The B.L.S. admits its index isn't all that it might be. And the bureau is spending $4 million in the hope of bringing the index in line with reality. When it does, this may affect, to the tune of a large sum, such wage contracts as General Motors, which is tied in with this B.L.S. index.

As it stands, the index measures the changes in the cost of living of city families with incomes around $3,000 a year. But since the complicated weighting formula of the index was set up, living conditions have changed, coating habits are different, family income levels are much higher. And some critics of the index say that the mathematical formula used can get as much as 10 per cent off base. Any error, they contend, grows progressively over the years.

Six Main Divisions

How is the index made up? There are six main divisions: Apparel, food, fuel and refrigeration, housefurnishings, rent, and miscellaneous. Food is further subdivided into: Cereals and bakery products; dairy products; fruits and vegetables; meats, poultry, and fish. The fuel component is divided into gas and electricity, and other fuels.

Each month the bureau sends shoppers out in a number of cities to buy from a list supposedly typical of what a $3,000-a-year family would use. Each item is then weighted to bring it into line with what the bureau thinks its place should be in the average family budget.

Any such index is likely to be questioned in times of irregular price movements, with some items going up and some going down, as at present.

For example, some people have had their rents raised, and their gas, phone or electricity rates hiked. This may weigh more heavily on their particular budget than the easing of food prices. Also, some products are bought only by certain groups—price changes in these items may loom large in a weighted index, but only for individuals who use them.

On the other hand, many consumers have been buying a large part of their needs at sales and markdowns. Quoted prices, used in compiling the cost-of-living index, are therefore higher than the average prices actually being paid by many persons.

To meet the critics, the bureau is planning a three-year re-do of its index. It is sending investigators to 34 cities to see what are the present buying habits of city families with moderate incomes. They will question 20,000 families and collect 600,000 price quotations on 1,500 items used in compiling the weighted index.

In three years, then, you should know, statistically, what you already know when you face the month's bills—how much it costs to live.

Einstein, however, says it may take more years than that to prove or disprove his new theory, billed as an attempt to solve the mystery of life.

March of Dimes Ball Date Set for January 30 To Raise Funds for Combatting Polio Disease

The 1950 annual March of Dimes Ball will be held Monday night, January 30, at Cislano's on Route 9W near Port Ewen. It was decided at a meeting of the ball committee at the city hall Wednesday night.

The ball is a part of the campaign of Ulster Chapter, National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, to raise funds to combat polio. Richard Kalish, chairman of the committee, announced that Phil Cislano, proprietor, has offered the use of the ball room and will engage a union dance band as his contribution to the drive. This will make it possible for the entire ticket proceeds to go toward the campaign goal, Kalish said.

An entertainment is being arranged by members of the committee.

In addition to Kalish, members of the March of Dimes ball committee are Raymond Howe, Jr., Howard C. St. John, Elizabeth LaTour and Lawrence Quilty.

Miss McDonald Recovers

Encino, Calif., Dec. 29 (AP)—Marie McDonald has made a quick recovery from a nervous heart spasm caused by a midnight hit-and-run auto accident. Known as "The Body" in Hollywood, the 24-year-old actress and her husband, Harry Karl, shoe manufacturer, were involved in the crash which did considerable damage to their auto. "I haven't got heart trouble. The doctors envy my heart," she said yesterday. "I feel fine now." Miss McDonald said the seizure she suffered after the accident was "a spasm of chest and heart muscles," adding that she recently spent 10 days in the hospital for treatment of the nervous heart.

New Year's Service

A New Year's eve service will be held in Immanuel Evangelical Lutheran Church, Livingston street, on Saturday evening at 7:30. The Rev. Ernest L. Witte will preach a sermon on the theme, "The Abiding Presence." The organist, Waldemar Bloch, will give a brief recital of seasonal selections before the service. The public is invited.

Troth Announced To Clarence Webster

BLANCHE NORTH

Mr. and Mrs. Elston North of Hurley announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Blanche North, to Clarence Russell Webster, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Webster of Linderman avenue extension. No date has been set for the wedding.

Arthur G. Carr, 2nd, Weds Hilda Irene Brown At Comforter Church; Both Attend Colleges

The Reformed Church of the Comforter was the setting Wednesday at 4 p. m. for the wedding of Miss Hilda Irene Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy M. Brown, 322 Clifton avenue, to Arthur G. Carr, 2nd, son of Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds B. Carr, 44 Lounsbury Place. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Raymond J. Pontier, pastor of the church, and the Rev. Dr. Ernest Fraen, pastor of Middle Collegiate Church, New York city.

Paul Braum was organist and, among the traditional selections, played "Ich Liebe Dich; Oh, Promise Me; Untill; At Dawning; and One Alone." Douglas Kennedy sang "Through the Years, by Youmans; Because, D'Hardelot; and The Lord's Prayer, Malotte. The church was decorated with white snapdragons and palms. The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore an ivory satin and tulle gown made with fitted bodice, and full skirt terminating in a long train. With it she wore long lace mitts, an illusion veil attached to a matching lace halo. She carried a bouquet of white orchids and stephanotis.

Miss Mary K. Darling was maid of honor. Miss Dorothy E. Walter was bridesmaid and Miss Mary Elizabeth Carr, sister of the bridegroom, was junior bridesmaid. All wore gowns of white tulle with portrait necklines and bouffant skirts. They carried colonial bouquets of Better Time roses and stelia. William R. Carr, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were Frank E. Jaquinia and Julian B. Schor, both of New York. The bridal party received 40 guests, members of the immediate families at Judge's. Afterward Mr. and Mrs. Carr left for a wedding trip to New York. For traveling the bride chose a steel gray gabardine suit with frost pink accessories. They will make their home at 322 Clifton avenue. Mrs. Carr is a graduate of Cortland State Teachers College where she received her bachelor of science degree in June 1948. She was employed as public health educator by the New York State Department of Health and is now attending Yale University School of Public Health. Her husband received his bachelor of arts degree from Dartmouth in June 1947 and is attending Columbia University College of Physicians and Surgeons.

Students Give Christmas Recital

An appropriate program for Christmas week was given Wednesday evening by two of Kingston's talented young people who are majoring in music in their colleges. Robert Wolfersteig, organist, and Miss Elizabeth Sherman, soprano, presented a recital of organ and vocal selections at the First Dutch Reformed Church.
Approximately 100 were in attendance.

Mr. Wolfersteig chose Pachel-bel's Christmas Chorale and Fugue to open the program and followed it with familiar choral preludes by Bach. He also selected music by Yon, Vienn, Franck, Vidor and Karg-Elert. The numbers were varied in tempo and interpretive requirements.

He is a senior at the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music and always graciously includes a recital for the folks at home in his busy
Christmas vacation schedule.

Assisting Mr. Wolfersteig was Miss Elizabeth Sherman, senior at Eastman School of Music. She sang two groups of songs, the first, modern recital numbers, and the second group, pertaining to Christmas. Her talent for singing, as Mr. Wolfersteig's for playing,
has developed and grown through study.

The church was decorated in keeping with the Christmas season and the hour of music was a most welcome interlude of the holiday season.

Wiltwycks Win, 64-31; Garlands Snap Streak With 55-35 Victory

Hunt, Priest Top Rec Loop Scorers

A winning streak was continued and a losing streak was halted during play in Wednesday night's game of City Recreation Basketball League games at the municipal auditorium.

Wiltwycks Motors kept their streak alive by over powering Fullers by 64 to 31 while Garlands' laundry opened Harry Angel's to the tune of 55 to 35.

Bob Hunt emerged as the top scorer of the night with his collection of 19 points for the Motors. Hunt dipped in eight decisions and three foul throws for his top total. Mothers and Murray followed for the Motorsmen with 10 apiece.

Jordan was high for Fullers with 14 markers.

Wiltwycks led throughout the game, leading a 26-13 edge at halftime. A big 28 point scoring spree "red" the decision for the winners in the last quarter.

Dick Priest and two ex-K.I.L.S. came aboard. Rod Sengendorf and Joe "Clay" Albany helped the Garlands' laundry squad to break off Harry's Angels.

Priest showed the way with 18 points while Sengendorf glommed 14 and Albany had 12.

The laundrymen came from behind after trailing 10-3 in the first quarter. Garland's led by 18-13 at the half and 39-21 at the third session.

Erin Goerke's 10 points topped the scores.

Atoms Slaughter High Falls, 106-37

The Ashokan Atoms snapped a three-game losing skid Tuesday night with a convincing 106 to 37 victory over High Falls.

Leading the assault for the Atoms was George Jackson, forward, who collected 49 points on 23 fields and three charity stripe conversions. Bill Oakley, center, followed with 26 points.

High man for High Falls was Ed Campbell who swished the cords for 18 markers.

The Atoms will try to make it two in a row tonight when they meet the unbeaten Allgerville five at the Ashokan court.

Elbie Fletcher Sought By Bees
Frank Silva, general manager of the Bridgeport Bees of the Colonial Baseball League is reported to be seeking Elbie Fletcher, former major league star, as manager for the 1950 campaign.

Tom Downey, old-time player with the Cincinnati Reds, piloted Bridgeport at the end of the 1949 season. He took over for Elbie Byers.

Silva, who broadcast games at Buffalo in 1934, when Fletcher was with the Bisons of the International League, conferred recently with the first baseman at his home in Milton, Mass.

Two weeks before, at the minor league meetings in Baltimore, Silva talked with Charlie Keller, ex-Yankee great, but failed in his efforts to land King Kong as pilot of the Bees.

Fletcher opened the 1949 season with Jersey City of the International League and then went up with the Boston Braves. He formerly starred with the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Ring Date Set
Philadelphia, Dec. 29 (AP)—John (Ox) Da Grosa, a Pennsylvania athletic commissioner, set February 8 for the 10-round heavyweight boxing bout between Jersey Joe Walcott and Harold Johnson. Da Grosa named the date after a hearing yesterday attended by Promoter Harry Steinman and his matchmaker, Pete Moran. Steinman and Moran wanted the bout on February 15. Da Grosa denied them that date, saying it was too close to the scheduled Ray (Sugar) Robinson-George (Sugar) Costner middleweight bout here February 22.

Mulloy Faces Trouble
New Orleans, Dec. 20 (AP)—Top-seeded Gardner Mulloy may have a tough time today in the semifinals of the Sugar Bowl tennis tournament singles. The Miami player meets unseeded Vic Seixas of Philadelphia, who had little trouble in upsetting third-seeded Earl Cochell of Los Angeles in the second round play yesterday. Seixas won 6-2, 6-0. Mulloy took three sets to beat Tony Trabert of Cincinnati 6-1, 2-6, 6-4. Seixas' victory was the only upset of early play.

Blue-Gray Game
Montgomery, Ala., Dec. 29 (AP)—Wide open offense probably will be the order of the day Saturday when all-star teams from the north and south meet in the 12th annual Blue-Gray game here.

Head coaches Blair Cherry of Texas, Gray leader, and Ray Eist of Illinois, chief Blue selector, called a halt to rough work yesterday as both squads began polishing their offense.

The attack by both squads will be liberally sprinkled with forward passes, laterals and intricate ball-handling maneuvers designed to spread the defense.

Taking the spotlight in the aerial game, Auburn's Travis Tidwell and William and Mary's Buddy Lee for the Grays, and Mel Olix of Miami (Ohio) and Bernie Krueger of Illinois for the Blues.

Rose Bowl Notes
Pasadena, Calif., Dec. 29 (AP)—Ohio State boasts a number of dangerous backfield artists, adept at running, passing or both.

California's offense has been built to an enormous degree around one man, Quarterback Bob Celeri.

The man in the checkered vest, as Lynn Waldorf calls his gambling signal caller, has kept all opponents in hot water with his elective pass or run performances, and rolled up 975 yards passing the ball and 160 running it to lead the team in total offense.

Celeri's exploits actually accounted for almost a third of California's total offense—3,708 yards in the Bears' uninterrupted drive through 10 foes to reach the Rose Bowl for the second straight year.

As against the Celeri yardage,

'Old' Pete Alexander, Fighting Off Cancer, Still Dreams of Teaching Baseball to Kids

Los Angeles, Dec. 29 (AP)—The years have not dealt kindly with 'Old' Pete Alexander, but the great pitcher never was a man to ask quarter.

And—ask the men who played against him—he never gave much, either.

The long, raw-boned Nebraskan who won 373 games in a 20-year National League career may be near the end of the biggest game of all. He's pitching against a cancer that already has taken one ear and virtually deafened him.

His words come haltingly from his County General Hospital bed. Doctors here have yet to report their final diagnosis, but the cancer—says his divorced wife, Amy—came from sun irritation on his fair skin during his long playing career.

Nearing 63, 'Old' Pete—Grover Cleveland Alexander in the record books—would prefer to forget about most of the last 20 years. Much of it, especially with poor health in recent years, hasn't been pleasant.

Thinks About Kids
Baseball is still foremost in his mind. Answering questions which had to be written for him, because of his failing hearing, Pete told this interviewer:

"When I get out of here, I'd like to get the chance to work with youngsters and help them get along in the game."

"A kid has to start young and most of it depends on natural ability. But the right guidance helps. I think I could tell them in a hurry how to add to their ability."

He's got a way with kids. He helped hundreds of them in a recent baseball school here. His ex-wife, who keeps in close touch, says that there are a hundred letters and cards waiting for him at his little apartment.

The instructing job is the only one he has able to take on since he came to Southern California from St. Louis two years ago. For the last decade, Alex has bounced around from one odd job to another.

Besides his physical ailment, it seemed to this observer that something has been gnawing inside the old pitcher.

Ohio State's talented lads earned 3,071 yards in nine games and the distance was pretty well divided between Jerry Knell, Pandal Savic, Fred Morrison, Ray Hamilton and Jimmy Clark.

All of which indicates that Celeri and his one-man offense must be augmented, and it is very likely that Waldorf is attending to this right now at the Bears' camp at nearby Riverside.

Rough Work Over
Baton Rouge, La., Dec. 29 (AP)—Rough work is over for the Sugar Bowl-bound Louisiana State University football team but at Biloxi, Miss., base of the Oklahoma Sooners, the issue is clouded.

Oklahoma will continue practice sessions today behind a thick, canvas sheet, which shields their training field from inquisitive eyes.

Coach Bud Wilkinson of Oklahoma says his team went to camp behind that screen and show its football ability until Sunday.

A short workout will be held in New Orleans Sunday but the general public won't see it. The Sugar Bowl game will be played Monday.

Practices through Sunday will build conditioning. Coach Gus Tinsley of L.S.U. said yesterday, after a rough afternoon of polishing defenses against the Oklahoma Split 'T.

During the last rough work L.S.U. went through most phases of defensive football—against running, long and short passes and laterals.

Just a few minutes were given to slicking up the L.S.U. running and passing game.

Donker-Choo Choo Meet
Dallas, Dec. 29 (AP)—The Donker and Choo-Choo—two of the most famous men of football—finally have gotten together.

It required four college seasons and a Cotton Bowl game for them to have that chat they've both been wanting.

The Donker is Doak Walker, three-time All-America of Southern Methodist. Choo-Choo is Charlie Justice, two-time North Carolina All-American.

Strong admirers of each other and with careers that ran a

Brooks End Trip
Miami, Fla., Dec. 29 (AP)—The Santa Clara Broncos were scheduled to end today a 3,000-mile, four-day train trip for their meeting with the University of Kentucky in the Orange Bowl Jan. 2.

The Broncos were due in Miami shortly after noon aboard a Seaboard Air Line special train from New Orleans, where they worked out yesterday.

They will take over Memorial Field at Miami Beach, where the Kentuckians have been training since Saturday. The Wildcats shifted their training grounds to Quarterbacks Field in Coral Gables.

Meanwhile, Kentucky's head coach, Paul (Bear) Bryant, was singing the injury blues after yesterday's scrimmage session.

Doug Moseley, 200-pound first string offensive center, suffered a bruised shoulder late in the contact session but X-ray examination disclosed no fracture or separation.

Moseley will be out for an indefinite period and Harry Rogers, 190-pound junior, is expected to do most of the work as his understudy.

stunning parallel, Walker and Justice shook hands and talked over a lot of things yesterday afternoon when the North Carolina football squad arrived in Dallas where, next Monday the Tar Heels play Rice in the Cotton Bowl. It was the first time they had seen each other.

Walker won't be in a bowl game this time—he'll just be watching the Choo-Choo try to railroad the Rice Express.

Before he met Justice, Walker told newsmen a leg injury had healed and that he was going to Jacksonville next Tuesday to play in the Senior Bowl. He had to miss the East-West game because of the injury. Justice, of course, has been tied up in practice for the Cotton Bowl.

Hoyas Begin Drills
El Paso, Tex., Dec. 29 (AP)—Georgetown University today opened practice for its Jan. 2 Sun Bowl meeting with Texas Western University. The Hoyas arrived here late yesterday, were paraded through downtown El Paso, and extended the city official greetings in a huge street rally. Coach Bob Margarita planned only a light drill this morning, but indicated stiffer practice would be on tap the next couple of days.

Harness Racing Returns to Empire Track Next Year; First Since 1943

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 29 (AP)—Harness racing will return to Empire City track in Yonkers next year for the first time since 1943.

The New York State Harness Racing Commission yesterday granted a license to the Yonkers Trotting Association and approved dates for 62 days of racing in three meets at the 45-year-old track.

The license has been relinquished by the Goshen Mile Track Association for its meeting at Roosevelt Raceway, Westbury.

William H. Cane of Jersey City, N. J., is president of the Yonkers association. Cane, who for two decades has staged trotting classic, The Hambletonian, also heads the Mile Track at Goshen.

Cane said yesterday that the move to Empire City would not affect the Hambletonian at Goshen. The park in Goshen next August.

However, he said that whether there would be pari-mutuel betting at Goshen for the Hambletonian depended upon action by the state Legislature during the session opening Wednesday.

Cane added that ever since 1941 meeting at Empire he had hoped to "return some day as the sponsor of trotting at that perfect site."

Under present state law, the commission may grant licenses for only seven tracks where pari-mutuel betting is conducted. The licenses must be renewed each year. The Legislature would have to amend the law to permit betting at additional tracks.

The Grand Circuit has granted Cane's Good Time Track at Goshen racing dates from Aug. 7 to 11. Since the Hambletonian regularly is held on Wednesday, the date next year would be Aug. 9.

Any chance that the trotting classic for three-year-olds would be transferred to Yonkers apparently was ruled out by the announcement that Empire was being cut from a mile to a half-mile track. The Hambletonian Society specifies the race must be on a mile track.

Other Dates Given
In addition to the meeting dates for Empire City, the commission announced dates for 1950 meets at Hamburg, historic track at Goshen, Batavia, Saratoga Springs and Roosevelt Raceway. The longest continuous run, from May 22 to Sept. 23, will be at Roosevelt Raceway.

The Yonkers meetings will be April 28 to May 20; Aug. 15 to Aug. 28, and Sept. 25 to Oct. 28.

The Yonkers Trotting Association plans to rent Empire City track from the Algon Corporation.

that, which bought it in March for $2,400,000. Albany officials estimate the cost of modernizing the track at $1,200,000.

Racing at Roosevelt Raceway will be conducted by the New Country Trotting Association from May 22 to July 3 and from Aug. 15 to Sept. 23. In between these two meets, the Nassau Trotting Association will take over for a meeting from July 1 to Aug. 14.

The Saratoga Harness Racing Association's meet at Saratoga Springs is scheduled from July 29 to Aug. 26. The Saratoga harness meet Sept. 11 to Oct. 11, will be under auspices of the Orange County Driving Park Association.

Hambletonian Association at Hamburg, May 29 to July 29. Orange County Park Association at Historic Track, Goshen, July 3 to July 8.

Genesee-Nassau Raceway Association at Batavia, July 31 to Oct. 11.

Warren Grimm Is Accidentally Shot By Friend's Rifle

Warren Grimm, 18, of 29 Slicks avenue was accidentally shot in his lower right leg while he and several other youths were target practicing at Eagles Nest near Lomontville shortly before noon Wednesday, the sheriff's office reported.

Grimm was taken to Kingston Hospital, where his condition today was reported as "good."

County Identification Officer Leonard Behrman of the sheriff's office reported after questioning the youth and his companions that the bullet from Grimm's 22 calibre "single-shot" rifle entered the youth's leg just above the ankle. The gun was being carried at the time by Girard Schuchow, 16, also of Slicks avenue, who thought the safety was on, Behrman said.

The boys were spending the morning at target practice near a cabin they have at Eagles Nest off the main road at Lomontville, Behrman reported. After the accident, the boys made their way to a neighbor, Leonard Lockwood, arriving about 1:25 p. m., at which time Lockwood notified the sheriff's office. The sheriff's office in turn notified Cooper's Ambulance Service and an ambulance was sent to bring Grimm to the hospital.

Fire Drives Out Loretta
Beverly Hills, Calif., Dec. 29 (AP)—A brush fire that raged for more than two hours last night forced Loretta Young and her three children from their suburban home.

Before it was brought under control by 300 firefighters, the blaze threatened several large residences, advancing at one point to within 30 feet of two homes. Householders played streams of water from garden hoses over their roofs as winds carried sparks over a wide area. Miss Young and her children spent the night at home of a friend. Her husband, Radio Executive Tom Lewis, returned to help battle the flames.

No Casualties Reported

Manila, Dec. 29 (AP)—An earthquake of moderate intensity shook Manila today. No casualties were reported. Damage was slight. Three distinct shocks lasted a total of two and one-half minutes in what Manila's observatory called the Philippine capital's most severe jarring since 1934. The first came at 11:05 a. m. (10:05 p. m. E.S.T., Wednesday). Occupants of downtown buildings scurried into the streets but most went back in about 15 minutes. Stucco cascaded from the eight-story Far Eastern Hotel. A high tension power tower in Plaza Gaiti was jolted askew, interrupting electric service briefly.

GOP Plans . . .

made a big "me too" mistake in his unsuccessful 1948 presidential campaign. Approving some New Deal proposals and saying in effect that he could make them work better. Dewey has conceded he may have taken the wrong tack with a sweetness-and-light campaign. But aides said he stands pat on the advice he gave the Republican Party here last winter. Looking back on his defeat, he told the Republicans: "Take the middle road. Stop hallyaching about the past. Quit trying to outpromise the Democrats. Forget about turning the clock back and work for social progress under a flourishing competitive system of private enterprise, where every human right is expanded."

Dewey told a news conference at Albany yesterday he would not seek the presidential nomination in 1952, 1956 or 1960.

Disfavor for Middle Road. Senator Wherry of Nebraska, the G.O.P. Senate floor leader, doesn't think so much of the middle road advocated by Dewey. Wherry wants the Republicans to fight the Democrats at every cross-roads of national policy.

Wherry doesn't sit in the same Republican pew with Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio on such issues as federal aid to education, low-cost housing and some other social welfare proposals Taft has sponsored in the past.

But they agree that government aid in spending is a prime issue from the G.O.P. standpoint. Although he has attacked what he calls the " Truman administration's aim toward setting up a 'handout' state," Taft said the farmers want price supports and should have "reasonable" proposals.

Taft finds himself in disagreement with some of his G.O.P. colleagues on the extent to which Republicans ought to support administration foreign policies. He opposed the North Atlantic Treaty and has called for abandonment of the foreign military assistance program.

Taking a different view is former Gov. Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota, a potential 1952 presidential candidate. He called in a recent statement for G.O.P. support of the bipartisan foreign policy "with vigorous participation in the affairs of all of the world."

Papa Aly Drinks a Toast

A proud and happy Prince Aly Khan (right) raises his glass for a toast with newsmen after announcing the birth of a baby princess, Yasmin, to his actress wife, Rita Hayworth, at the Montelisi Clinic, in Lausanne, Switzerland, Dec. 28. The prince said the birth was a natural one and that the baby, the first granddaughter of Aga Khan, spiritual leader of millions of Moslems, weighed five and one-half pounds. (A.P. No Sunday school will be held this Sunday.

Reservoir Levels Rise

New York, Dec. 29 (AP)—New York city's reservoir levels rose again today but the consumption of water jumped, too, in the face of repairs for continued saving. The runoff from recent rains added 1,194,000,000 gallons to the storage lakes in 24 hours. The use of water rose about 50,000,000 gallons. Edward J. Clark, chief engineer of the water department, said that if consumption continues to rise the possibility of filling the reservoirs will be "out the window." "Apparently the public is taking too optimistic a view of the jump in storage," Clark said. "There is an absolute, stringent necessity for strict conservation."

P.S.C. Is Upheld

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 29 (AP)—The Court of Appeals today upheld the State Public Service Commission in ordering a temporary 10 per cent electric rate reduction for customers of the Consolidated Edison Corp. of New York city.

It Was Barkley, But Cabbie Didn't Know

Norfolk, Va., Dec. 29 (AP)—When the stout, worried gentleman in the sporty convertible asked cabbie driver Oscar Osmund the way from Little Creek to Norfolk yesterday, he got his answer. Not, however, before Osmund had crossed him into service as an assistant in the greasy job of checking the oil in his cab.
That job accomplished, Osmund led the gentleman and his lady driver to a Norfolk ferry dock. He got a five dollar bill for his pains.
Then he found out just who the assistant oil-checker was.
It was Vice-President Alben Barkley. The lady driver was Mrs. Barkley. En route to Washington, they'd lost their way near Little Creek amphibious base.
Osmund wasn't impressed.
"Who's Vice-President Barkley?" he asked.

Plane Speed Revealed

Los Angeles, Dec. 29 (AP)—An air force plane reportedly has flown 1989 miles per hour—three times the speed of sound. That's the new record of the air force's X-1 rocket plane, says the Los Angeles Times aviation editor, Marvin Miles. Quoting what he calls "reliable informants," Miles today said the X-1 had reached a speed of 1989 miles per hour in the stratosphere over Edwards Air Force Base at Muroc Dry Lake.

Late Bulletin

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 29 (AP)—The State Court of Appeals today declared unconstitutional New York city's controversial Sharkey rent control law.
The state's highest court acted unanimously. The opinion was not immediately available.
In effect, the Sharkey law froze New York city rents as of March 1, 1949.
It gave the city rent commission power to reject, modify or approve rent increases granted since that time under the revised federal rent control act.
Shortly after Mayor William O'Dwyer signed the measure into law Oct. 7, two landlords challenged its constitutionality and obtained a court order blocking enforcement of the act pending a determination of its legality.

O'Dwyers to Fly Home

Key Largo, Fla., Dec. 29 (AP)—New York's Mayor William O'Dwyer and his bride will fly home today to end a nine-day Florida honeymoon. The couple planned to board an Eastern Airlines plane at Miami's International Airport at 3:30 p. m. (EST), for the four-hour flight to Newark, N. J. O'Dwyer and the former Sloan Simpson were married at Stuart, Fla., December 20 and have cruised along the southeast Florida coast since then. He will be sworn in January 2 for another term as mayor of New York.

Lutzel Is Indicted

found, indicating that she had been shot. Lutzel gave himself up Sunday evening in New York and was returned to Ulster county and held on a first degree murder charge by Justice of the Peace Percy Bush.
There were six open indictments filed by the grand jury, five sealed and two dismissals.
No bills were found against George Gibbs of New Jersey who had been held pending investigation of a charge that he had allegedly assisted in harboring a wanted person. No bills were found against Clifford Christmann who had been charged with an alleged assault.

Plea of Innocent

Moses David Tompkins, Poughkeepsie, entered pleas of innocent to two charges of burglary, third degree, and unlawful entry. Counsel will be assigned by county court to which the indictments were transferred for disposition. Tompkins is charged with having entered Jennie's Grill in Highland on November 24, and also the Van Gunkle Garage at New Paltz on December 5. He was remanded to jail.
Theodore Van Keuren of Delaware county, charged with forgery, second degree, in two counts, for the alleged attempt to pass a check at a North Front street store on December 10, entered a plea of innocent.

ated a plea of innocent. His case was transferred to county court for assignment of counsel and disposition. He was remanded.
Elly Junius Allen, Marlborough, was charged with burglary, third degree, and unlawful entry, alleged to have been committed on December 17, when the Woolsey farm was entered and a radio and other articles taken. A plea of innocent was entered and the case transferred to county court where counsel will be assigned. He was remanded to jail.
Milton Kenneth Mayson, Jr., town of Saugerties, was charged with grand larceny, first degree, in two counts for the alleged taking of a car from the vicinity of the Blue Stone Lodge at Quarryville, on December 18, last. Mayson said he might possibly secure counsel. A plea of innocent was entered.
